PFLIMLIN REFUSES TO YIELD OFFICE

Ex-Circleville Man Killed by Spouse

Henry Adkins, 35, formerly of Circleville, was shot to death, apparently by his wife Yvone, about 6 p. m. Friday night at their home in Logansport, Ind., it was reported here today.

Mrs. Adkins, 24, the mother of two small children, is free on $2,500 bond on a manslaughter count. A coroner's inquest is scheduled for 9 a. m. tomorrow in the Cass County, Ind. courthouse.

Adkins, who was graduated from Circleville High School in 1940, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Pearl Adkins, 402 E. Main St.

Cass County Sheriff O. R. Carson said today that Mrs. Adkins, a small blonde woman, called his office about 6:20 p. m. Friday and said she had shot her husband because she "had enough of his getting drunk and beating her."

Sheriff Carson reported that she shot Adkins with a .22 caliber rifle as he lay sleeping on a day bed in the living room of their farm home at Twelve Mile, a small community about 16 miles northeast of Logansport.

* * *

THE TALL HUSKY victim, a breakman for the Pennsylvania Railroad, had been in a running feud with his wife the day of the shooting, according to Sheriff Carson.

He declared that Mrs. Adkins attempted to find her husband early Friday morning, finally locating him in a Logansport tavern. There, the sheriff said, Adkins kicked his wife, bruising her badly.

Later Friday the couple returned to their home at Twelve Mile, along with their two children, James Lee, 3, and Terry Lynn, 2. He said that Adkins apparently had been drinking heavily.

The sheriff said Mrs. Adkins told him that she persuaded her husband to lie down. Then, she said, she went into a yard next to the house and thought a while. Later she returned to the house, got the rifle and pumped the bullet into his right temple at close range, Sheriff Carson reported.

The two children were playing in the yard at the time of the shooting. Immediately after the tragedy, Mrs. Adkins called the sheriff's office and told of the shooting.

Mrs. Adkins said the victim had given her trouble since they were married 4½ years ago. Her parents supported Mrs. Adkins' statements.

Sheriff Carson stated that a decision will be made after tomorrow's coroner's inquest as to what charge will be filed against Mrs. Adkins. He said he didn't know if the Cass County prosecutor will call a special grand jury session.

The body was returned here late Saturday night. Private graveside services were held at 11 a. m. yesterday morning at Williamsport Cemetery, with the Rev. Charles D. Reed officiating. The Defenbaugh Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements here.

Adkins is survived by his mother; two brothers, Parker, Plain City, and David, Route 2, Grove City; and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Henry, Columbus, and Dr. Dorothy Adkins, who reportedly teaches at a college in the South.

Soviets Seek 25-Year Pact

Russian Troops Due To Leave Romania

MOSCOW (AP) —Announcing the Soviet Union will pull its troops out of Romania and reduce forces in Hungary, the Soviet bloc called on the NATO nations again today to join in a 25-year non-aggression pact.

At the same time, Premier Khrushchev threatened to set up rocket bases in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia if the United States and its allies arm West Germany with nuclear weapons.

These disclosures appeared in a communique summing up the meeting of the Soviet Union and her East European allies in Moscow Saturday. The group met after a four-day economic conference of the members of the Warsaw Pact, the Communists counter to the North Atlantic Alliance.

Soviet troops have been in Romania since they liberated the Balkan nation from the Germans in World War II.

* * *

THE COMMUNIQUE did not specify the number, but some sources estimate the total at 30,000 to 40,000. Their withdrawal would leave Soviet troops stationed in Poland and East Germany as well as in Hungary.

The communique said the Soviet government will cut its Hungary garrison by one division this year. The Soviets said earlier this year they were pulling 17,000 soldiers out of Hungary. They did not specify how many would then remain, but Western observers put the figure as high as 100,000.

Air Force Unveils New Jet Fighter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force disclosed today that its new Republic F105 fighter-bomber is capable of flying twice the speed of sound, and is armed with the new 20mm automatic cannon.

Republic Aviation Corp., Farmingdale, N. Y., is building the F105 for the Tactical Air Command.

Described as the most powerful one-man airplane in the world, the F105 can carry the new nuclear weapons along with clusters of rockets, 4,000 pounds of conventional bombs, napalm bombs and guided and unguided missiles.

The General Electric cannon, called the world's fastest and most potent machinegun, can fire 6,000 rounds a minute. The plane is powered by a Pratt and Whitney J75 engine.

Earlier, the Navy announced it would continue training its fledgling pilots instead of using civilian instructors for primary flight training as the Air Force does.

The Navy made its stand known in a news release at an Aviation Writers' Assn. meeting here, taking issue with certain recommendations of a survey conducted by a Cleveland firm, Robert Heller and Associates.

The Navy described the Aeronautical Training Society of Washington, D. C., which made the Heller report public, as a "bargaining agent for civilian flight training organizations."

Ohio Idle Pay Law Labeled As 'Inhuman'

Labor Leaders Call For Lengthening of Benefit Period

COLUMBUS (AP) — Branding as "inhuman" Ohio's present laws on unemployment compensation, the state's top labor leaders have asked the Legislature to lengthen the jobless pay period and to hike maximum benefits to 75 per cent of a worker's average weekly pay.

The executive board of the newly merged Ohio AFL-CIO, meeting for the first time Monday, called for quick action on the state's unemployment compensation law at the forthcoming special session of the Legislature.

Gov. C. William O'Neill plans to call the session to consider, among other things, extending the state's jobless pay period from 26 to 39 weeks.

The labor group said it is "inhuman for the state to expect the family of a jobless worker to live on $36 or $39 a week and to stop even these meager amounts after 26 weeks if new work has not been found."

The group supported O'Neill's request for the 13-week extension of the jobless pay period.

IN WASHINGTON, a bipartisan Senate group planned a fight today to broaden federal legislation to extend unemployment benefits. But supporters of an emergency bill said they have the votes to pass it without change.

A final vote on the anti-recession measure was possible today, but there was some sentiment as debate began to wait until Wednesday for a vote.

The emergency bill, already passed by the House, follows closely Eisenhower administration recommendations in this field.

A drive to strengthen the bill was announced by a group of Northern Democrats led by Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill). They were joined by some Republicans from industrial states.

Douglas and Kennedy prepared amendments that would both broaden the temporary features of the bill and write in higher permanent standards for jobless payments. Such payments now vary in duration and amount.

The group favoring a stronger bill contended the House-passed measure would provide no help for many jobless workers who have exhausted unemployment payments.

* * *

A CONTROVERSIAL feature of the bill would make the temporary program optional with the states. This was a departure from administration recommendations.

Douglas and Kennedy said most states have reported their legislatures would have to take action before they could participate in the program.

However, Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California predicted the Senate would pass the bill as it came from its finance committee.

2 U.S. Unknowns Returning Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two American fighting men came to the nation's capital today in death and in honor.

Nobody knew who they were. But all America knew what the free world owed to their sacrifice.

The destroyer Blandy docked at the naval gun factory, bearing the flag-draped bronze coffins of the unknown veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Otherwise the ceremonial part of the fallen men's return waited until Wednesday. Then the caskets will be taken to the Capitol to lie in state until burial in Arlington Cemetery Friday.

A third, brought with them from foreign battlefields, was given a sailor's burial in the sea Monday after a final selection was made during a rendezvous off the Virginia Capes. He was one of two picked from the anonymous dead of World War II.

Wednesday morning the two caskets containing the Unknowns will be removed to the rotunda of the Capitol. There they will lie in state, in the place reserved by custom for presidents and other famous men who have died.

* * *

ON MEMORIAL DAY, they will be entombed in Arlington close by the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

The three men—one from Korea, one from the European-North African battlefields of World War II, the other from the Pacific theater of that war—came to the seaward approaches of their homeland Monday.

The man from Europe was aboard the destroyer Blandy. Aboard the guided missile cruiser Boston were the bodies of the Pacific World War II dead and the man who died in Korea.

In the rain, on the gray swells of the Atlantic off Cape Henry, Va., all three bodies were transferred to the cruiser Canberra.

Then, in solemn ceremony, William Charette, a Navy enlisted man and holder of the Medal of Honor, chose between the identical caskets of the two World War II dead. Charette prayed for guidance before he placed a floral wreath on the casket to his right to mark his choice. The chosen one of World War II and the man from Korea's battleground were transferred to the Blandy.

Coin Chase Brings Death To Girl, 12

DAYTON (AP) — Twelve-year-old Carol Wine was on her way to Miamisburg Monday with her brother, a cousin and a neighborhood boy.

She was tossing a quarter in the air as they walked along. Suddenly, near Miamisburg's Community Park, the coin slipped from her fingers, rolled under a fence.

It was their spending money, so Carol and her cousin, Jackie Lee Murphy, 7, crawled under the fence after it. The neighbor boy, Arthur Buchanan, 11, joined them, while Carol's brother, Fred, 10, waited outside.

They searched for a few moments, then Carol screamed.

But it was too late. Carol was electrocuted when she touched a high voltage line. The fence surrounded a power transformer.

U.S. Cardinal Stritch Dies In Rome Clinic

ROME (AP)—The body of Samuel Cardinal Stritch lay in state today at the Pontifical College where Americans study for the priesthood.

The 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago died early today at Rome's Sanatrix Clinic. He had been confined there with circulatory ailments since he arrived in Rome April 25 to assume the high post given him by Pope Pius XII.

The cardinal's body will remain at the North American Pontifical College until Wednesday night. Then it will be taken to Rome's St. Ignatius Church. A funeral Mass will be celebrated there Thursday and the body will be flown home to Chicago for burial.

The funeral mass will be celebrated by Bishop Martin John O'Connor of Scranton, Pa., the rector of the Pontifical College.

All cardinals in Rome will pass before the body and each give his absolution.

The cardinal died before he had a chance to take up his duties as pro-prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith. He was the only native American ever named to the Vatican Curia, the church's highest administrative body.

The prelate was stricken first with a blood clot in his right arm while en route to Italy to take up his Vatican post. Three days later the arm was amputated to eliminate danger of gangrene.

Eight days ago, while apparently recovering rapidly, he suffered a severe stroke. He had lost ground steadily since then.

Gen. DeGaulle Tries Forming Government

First Reports Claim Premier Ready To Resign with Cabinet

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin today refused to step down so that Gen. Charles de Gaulle could form a government.

Earlier reports said that De Gaulle was in the process of forming a new government and that there were growing indications he would have the assistance of Pflimlin and President Rene Coty.

In the water of confusion, it was not clear just what was happening in the inner circles of the French Republic. But one thing was certain: France was wading deeper into a darkening crisis.

A minister who attended the meeting said Pflimlin would make a statement to the National Assembly in presenting a government motion which would pose a question of confidence.

If confidence is voted, Pflimlin will stay in his job. If the vote goes against him, he will resign and De Gaulle presumably will be called in by the President.

As things looked at nightfall, De Gaulle could not win a vote in the Assembly.

Apart from the Communists, the Socialists were solidly against him. So were perhaps 40 per cent of Pflimlin's party — the Popular Republicans.

But the political situation was developing so rapidly from hour to hour that there could be sudden shifts in party positions.

A high source at the President's Elysee Palace, who would not be named, said the resignation of the Pflimlin Cabinet could be expected tonight.

The same source said De Gaulle saw the premier during a visit to Paris Monday night. The two agreed on the formation of a new government, which would be headed by De Gaulle but include at least some of the ministers now in office.

The two men quietly talked over the grave political situation France is facing as result of the virtual breakaway of the French generals in Algeria and the mount-

Atomic Power Plant Studied By Scientists

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP) — The fanfare of dedication ceremonies over, scientists and engineers today quietly continued their quest for new knowledge at the historic Shippingport atomic power plan.

Although it serves as full-time commercial power plant, he $110 million station also functions as a test facility for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The world's first full-scale completely commercial nuclear power station, it is the proving ground for America's future atomic plants.

More than five months of successful operation of the plant was marked Monday with dedication ceremonies. President Eisenhower and a host of dignitaries participated in the half-hour event.

By means of an electronic hookup, the President activated the main throttle valve of the plant's urbine generaor and sent electricity flowing into the system of Duquesne Light Co.

At the plant site some 45 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, an estimated 1,500 government, industry, civic and scientific leaders watched the dramatic event on 60 television receivers set up under a huge canvas cover.

Since it started operating last Dec. 18, the plant has generated more than 32 million net kilowatt hours of electricity. It is fed to customers of Duquesne Light in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area.

Fourteen person have been subpoenaed to appear for the investigation. The probe was ordered by Secretary of State Ted Brown, after he received an anonymous letter containing a story on vote buying published in The Circleville Herald May 8.

The Herald story said 4-D precinct worker stated that some voters would enter the precinct and "ask what ballot "so-and-so" was on because that was the man they were supposed to vote for. Some even admitted they were dragged from their homes and herded to the precinct to register their paid vote."

"This offense is not new to Pickaway County", wrote Smith. "Many well paid persons will lay off their jobs on election day to buy votes for one candidate or another. Some make as much as $100 for this work," said Smith's story.

Officials from both majority parties deplore this practise and have stated they welcome publicity in hopes that future candidates of both parties will band together to stop vote buying. They feel that few, if any, election results are changed by vote buying.

Ceylon Put Under Strict Regulation

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke declared a state of emergency today to help the government suppress Sinhalese-Tamil riots wracking Ceylon for a week.

The order established a state just short of martial law.

In Colombo, rioting continued for the second day.

31 Days Submerged in A-Sub Can Be Wearing, Sailor Says

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Navy has announced that two U.S. submarines, Skate and Seawolf, have completed a record-breaking month under water. What did it feel like cooped up in an atomic submarine?

By LOUIS E. KLEINEIN
Sonarman 1c, U. S. Navy

ABOARD THE U.S.S. SKATE, GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Cruising beneath the surface, with no feeling of motion whatsoever, was a very eerie feeling.

This feeling of suspension must be what a whale feels when he swims under the ocean. We spent a long and tiring 40 days at sea, but surprisingly none of us had that "bottled up" feeling.

For more than 31 of those days we were totally buttoned up under the water. This was longer than any men have remained under the sea before.

Reading was a favorite pastime and movies were shown every night.

As the days passed, a fad started for exercising with a muscle-building outfit, so timely purchased before underway time. Everyone took a crack at it.

The crew's attitude was good all the way. No tension developed at all. I suppose this will be a surprise to many, especially when they imagine themselves with more than 80 others in a sealed pipe 250 feet in length and 25 feet in diameter.

We had virtually no news of the outside world. We did learn of the stoning of Vice President Nixon in South America and of the pay raise passed by Congress. These scraps of news came to us during reception of official messages received by radio.

But after 20 days the games began to wear off and we all became a little restless. The air was still country fresh and our source of "sunlight" via the neutron was still bright.

Beards began to blossom out in good shape. Everyone tried to outdo the other. I attempted to trim mine in the gay 90s style. It was in pretty good shape by the thirty-first day.

We surfaced a 7 a. m. on Sunday, May 25. It was like the end of a dream.

IN WASHINGTON, a bipartisan Senate group planned a fight today to broaden federal legislation to extend unemployment benefits. But supporters of an emergency bill said they have the votes to pass it without change.

A final vote on the anti-recession measure was possible today, but there was some sentiment as debate began to wait until Wednesday for a vote.

The emergency bill, already passed by the House, follows closely Eisenhower administration recommendations in this field.

A drive to strengthen the bill was announced by a group of Northern Democrats led by Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill). They were joined by some Republicans from industrial states.

Douglas and Kennedy prepared amendments that would both broaden the temporary features of the bill and write in higher permanent standards for jobless payments. Such payments now vary in duration and amount.

The group favoring a stronger bill contended the House-passed measure would provide no help for many jobless workers who have exhausted unemployment payments.

* * *

A CONTROVERSIAL feature of the bill would make the temporary program optional with the states. This was a departure from administration recommendations.

Douglas and Kennedy said most states have reported their legislatures would have to take action before they could participate in the program.

However, Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California predicted the Senate would pass the bill as it came from its finance committee.

2 U.S. Unknowns Returning Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two American fighting men came to the nation's capital today in death and in honor.

Nobody knew who they were. But all America knew what the free world owed to their sacrifice.

The destroyer Blandy docked at the naval gun factory, bearing the flag-draped bronze coffins of the unknown veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Otherwise the ceremonial part of the fallen men's return waited until Wednesday. Then the caskets will be taken to the Capitol to lie in state until burial in Arlington Cemetery Friday.

A third, brought with them from foreign battlefields, was given a sailor's burial in the sea Monday after a final selection was made during a rendezvous off the Virginia Capes. He was one of two picked from the anonymous dead of World War II.

Wednesday morning the two caskets containing the Unknowns will be removed to the rotunda of the Capitol. There they will lie in state, in the place reserved by custom for presidents and other famous men who have died.

* * *

ON MEMORIAL DAY, they will be entombed in Arlington close by the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

The three men—one from Korea, one from the European-North African battlefields of World War II, the other from the Pacific theater of that war—came to the seaward approaches of their homeland Monday.

The man from Europe was aboard the destroyer Blandy. Aboard the guided missile cruiser Boston were the bodies of the Pacific World War II dead and the man who died in Korea.

In the rain, on the gray swells of the Atlantic off Cape Henry, Va., all three bodies were transferred to the cruiser Canberra.

Then, in solemn ceremony, William Charette, a Navy enlisted man and holder of the Medal of Honor, chose between the identical caskets of the two World War II dead. Charette prayed for guidance before he placed a floral wreath on the casket to his right to mark his choice. The chosen one of World War II and the man from Korea's battleground were transferred to the Blandy.

U.S. Cardinal Stritch Dies In Rome Clinic

ROME (AP)—The body of Samuel Cardinal Stritch lay in state today at the Pontifical College where Americans study for the priesthood.

The 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago died early today at Rome's Sanatrix Clinic. He had been confined there with circulatory ailments since he arrived in Rome April 25 to assume the high post given him by Pope Pius XII.

The cardinal's body will remain at the North American Pontifical College until Wednesday night. Then it will be taken to Rome's St. Ignatius Church. A funeral Mass will be celebrated there Thursday and the body will be flown home to Chicago for burial.

The funeral mass will be celebrated by Bishop Martin John O'Connor of Scranton, Pa., the rector of the Pontifical College.

All cardinals in Rome will pass before the body and each give his absolution.

The cardinal died before he had a chance to take up his duties as pro-prefect of the Vatican's Congregation for Propagation of the Faith. He was the only native American ever named to the Vatican Curia, the church's highest administrative body.

The prelate was stricken first with a blood clot in his right arm while en route to Italy to take up his Vatican post. Three days later the arm was amputated to eliminate danger of gangrene.

Eight days ago, while apparently recovering rapidly, he suffered a severe stroke. He had lost ground steadily since then.

Coin Chase Brings Death To Girl, 12

DAYTON (AP) — Twelve-year-old Carol Wine was on her way to Miamisburg Monday with her brother, a cousin and a neighborhood boy.

She was tossing a quarter in the air as they walked along. Suddenly, near Miamisburg's Community Park, the coin slipped from her fingers, rolled under a fence.

It was their spending money, so Carol and her cousin, Jackie Lee Murphy, 7, crawled under the fence after it. The neighbor boy, Arthur Buchanan, 11, joined them, while Carol's brother, Fred, 10, waited outside.

They searched for a few moments, then Carol screamed.

But it was too late. Carol was electrocuted when she touched a high voltage line. The fence surrounded a power transformer.

Gen. DeGaulle Tries Forming Government

First Reports Claim Premier Ready To Resign with Cabinet

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin today refused to step down so that Gen. Charles de Gaulle could form a government.

Earlier reports said that De Gaulle was in the process of forming a new government and that there were growing indications he would have the assistance of Pflimlin and President Rene Coty.

In the water of confusion, it was not clear just what was happening in the inner circles of the French Republic. But one thing was certain: France was wading deeper into a darkening crisis.

A minister who attended the meeting said Pflimlin would make a statement to the National Assembly in presenting a government motion which would pose a question of confidence.

If confidence is voted, Pflimlin will stay in his job. If the vote goes against him, he will resign and De Gaulle presumably will be called in by the President.

As things looked at nightfall, De Gaulle could not win a vote in the Assembly.

Apart from the Communists, the Socialists were solidly against him. So were perhaps 40 per cent of Pflimlin's party — the Popular Republicans.

But the political situation was developing so rapidly from hour to hour that there could be sudden shifts in party positions.

A high source at the President's Elysee Palace, who would not be named, said the resignation of the Pflimlin Cabinet could be expected tonight.

The same source said De Gaulle saw the premier during a visit to Paris Monday night. The two agreed on the formation of a new government, which would be headed by De Gaulle but include at least some of the ministers now in office.

The two men quietly talked over the grave political situation France is facing as result of the virtual breakaway of the French generals in Algeria and the mount-

Atomic Power Plant Studied By Scientists

SHIPPINGPORT, Pa. (AP) — The fanfare of dedication ceremonies over, scientists and engineers today quietly continued their quest for new knowledge at the historic Shippingport atomic power plan.

Although it serves as full-time commercial power plant, he $110 million station also functions as a test facility for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The world's first full-scale completely commercial nuclear power station, it is the proving ground for America's future atomic plants.

More than five months of successful operation of the plant was marked Monday with dedication ceremonies. President Eisenhower and a host of dignitaries participated in the half-hour event.

By means of an electronic hookup, the President activated the main throttle valve of the plant's urbine generaor and sent electricity flowing into the system of Duquesne Light Co.

At the plant site some 45 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, an estimated 1,500 government, industry, civic and scientific leaders watched the dramatic event on 60 television receivers set up under a huge canvas cover.

Since it started operating last Dec. 18, the plant has generated more than 32 million net kilowatt hours of electricity. It is fed to customers of Duquesne Light in the Pittsburgh metropolitan area.

Vote Probe Set Tonight

Tonight's probe of apparent irregularities in the May 6 primary election here before the Pickaway County Board of Elections may bring out the fact a minor cast a ballot.

The hearing, open to the public, is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. in the Common Pleas Courtroom.

Fourteen person have been subpoenaed to appear for the investigation. The probe was ordered by Secretary of State Ted Brown, after he received an anonymous letter containing a story on vote buying published in The Circleville Herald May 8.

The story by reporter James I. Smith III, stated Smith witnessed votes being bought in Circleville's Precinct 4-D. It also was indicated today by board officials that some witnesses may testify that a person under 21 cast a vote.

* * *

SMITH'S story stated that he witnessed a vote bought across the street from the voting place.

The Herald story said 4-D precinct worker stated that some voters would enter the precinct and "ask what ballot "so-and-so" was on because that was the man they were supposed to vote for. Some even admitted they were dragged from their homes and herded to the precinct to register their paid vote."

"This offense is not new to Pickaway County", wrote Smith. "Many well paid persons will lay off their jobs on election day to buy votes for one candidate or another. Some make as much as $100 for this work," said Smith's story.

Officials from both majority parties deplore this practise and have stated they welcome publicity in hopes that future candidates of both parties will band together to stop vote buying. They feel that few, if any, election results are changed by vote buying.

Witnesses subpoenaed to appear before the election board tonight, are Smith and his wife, Rosemary, 320 Cedar Heights Road; Ralph Dollison, Lowery Lane; Leslie Brown, 371 Logan St.; Walter Goodman, 624 S. Court St; Barbara Wolfe, 376 Weldon Ave.; Rance Wolfe, 379 Weldon Ave., and Clarence Robison, 375 Weldon Ave.

Precinct workers subpoenaed to appear are Mrs. Rosalie Turner, 373 Walnut St.; Mrs. Gloria Cockrell, rear 373 Walnut St.; Mrs. Lilly E. Dumm, 340 Walnut St.; Mrs. Martha Morrison, 940 Clinton St.; Mrs. Mary Walton, 362 Walnut St., and Miss Lucille Dumm, 340 Walnut St.

Mother, 37, Admits Slaying 2 Youngsters

DAYTON (AP) —John F. McFadden, a Dayton fireman, was on Duty Monday night when he overheard an ambulance being dispatched by radio to his home.

Rushing home, he found police already at the scene and two of his six children stabbed to death. His wife, Mary, 37, had told police: "I've just killed two of my children and you'd better get out here before I kill the others."

She was taken into custody for questioning. The bodies of two daughters — Darlene, 18 months, and Margaret Helen, 11 — were found in first floor bedrooms.

The other children were upstairs and uninjured. They are Beverly Ann, 15; Frank, 12; John Jr., 9, and Michael Leroy, 6.

Montgomery County Deputy Coroner Tom Arnold said the husband told him that Mrs. McFadden had been nervous and upset lately.

Ceylon Put Under Strict Regulation

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke declared a state of emergency today to help the government suppress Sinhalese-Tamil riots wracking Ceylon for a week.

The order established a state just short of martial law.

In Colombo, rioting continued for the second day.

The minority Tamils, who make up a quarter of Ceylon's eight million population, have been conducting a passive resistance campaign since Premier Solomon Bandaranaike last month bowed to the Sinhalese majority and agreed to make their tongue the Indian Ocean island nation's only official language.

31 Days Submerged in A-Sub Can Be Wearing, Sailor Says

EDITOR'S NOTE — The Navy has announced that two U.S. submarines, Skate and Seawolf, have completed a record-breaking month under water. What did it feel like cooped up in an atomic submarine?

By LOUIS E. KLEINEIN
Sonarman 1c, U. S. Navy

ABOARD THE U.S.S. SKATE, GROTON, Conn. (AP)—Cruising beneath the surface, with no feeling of motion whatsoever, was a very eerie feeling.

This feeling of suspension must be what a whale feels when he swims under the ocean. We spent a long and tiring 40 days at sea, but surprisingly none of us had that "bottled up" feeling.

For more than 31 of those days we were totally buttoned up under the water. This was longer than any men have remained under the sea before.

Reading was a favorite pastime and movies were shown every night.

As the days passed, a fad started for exercising with a muscle-building outfit, so timely purchased before underway time. Everyone took a crack at it.

The crew's attitude was good all the way. No tension developed at all. I suppose this will be a surprise to many, especially when they imagine themselves with more than 80 others in a sealed pipe 250 feet in length and 25 feet in diameter.

We had virtually no news of the outside world. We did learn of the stoning of Vice President Nixon in South America and of the pay raise passed by Congress. These scraps of news came to us during reception of official messages received by radio.

But after 20 days the games began to wear off and we all became a little restless. The air was still country fresh and our source of "sunlight" via the neutron was still bright.

Beards began to blossom out in good shape. Everyone tried to outdo the other. I attempted to trim mine in the gay 90s style. It was in pretty good shape by the thirty-first day.

We surfaced a 7 a. m. on Sunday, May 25. It was like the end of a dream.

Stock Mart Holding on Dead Center

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained on dead center in moderate trading early this afternoon.

A hodge-podge of small gains and losses made a pretty even division among key stocks.

Agreement among spokesman for both major parties on a no-tax-cut policy was major news but Wall Street has been fairly indifferent to this question.

Rails, resting after their rise Monday, showed minor fluctuations.

The market was again in a technical resistance area to further advance because it was near the 1958 highs where stock is available for sale. The continued rise in steel production and another copper price boost at the custom smelter level were bullish factors.

Lukens Steel, Goodyear and American Cyanamid were off about a point each while Union Carbide's loss was a bit more than that.

Otherwise it was virtually a featureless market.

U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Gen. DeGaulle

* * *

DE GAULLE announced earlier in the day he was moving to take over the government. He urged the nation to remain calm.

He promised a quick contact with the Gaullist leaders in Algeria to settle that crisis.

New trouble boiled up for France. Hundreds of thousands of workers began laying down their tools in a genera, strike called by a huge Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor to protest against De Gaulle's rise to power.

Paris suburban train service was tied up. Northern coal fields were deserted. Many factories were idle. But non-Communist unions were not cooperating. Paris subway service was reported normal. Only 40 of the city's 1,700 buses were idle.

De Gaulle moved today in utmost secrecy.

No one at his Paris headquarters had advance notice that he intended issuing a statement.

It said in part: "I started yesterday the regular process necessary for the establishment of a republican government capable of assuring the unity and the independence of the country.

* * *

"I DEPEND on that process being carried through and that the country will show by its calm and its dignity that it wishes it to succeed.

"I expect the land, sea and air forces in Algeria to remain exemplary under the orders of their chiefs — Gen. Raoul Salan, Adm. Philippe Auboyneau, Gen. Edmond Jouhaud."

The military chiefs in Algeria first launched the move to bring De Gaulle to power.

De Gaulle is 67. He dropped out of French political life in 1946 disdainful of the nation's political system. He stepped into France's blackest crisis two weeks ago when he came to Paris to announce that he was willing to take over the reins of government, but on his own terms. Then he returned to his country home.

Before driving to Paris, De Gaulle conferred with the governor of his province, Marcel Diebolt, who then sped ahead to the capital and saw Pflimlin.

The insurgent regime in Algiers gained a naval arm when ships of the French Mediterranean fleet steamed into Algeria ports.

An insurgent spokesman said the ships, which include an aircraft carrier, "will obey their commanding admiral." That is Admiral Auboyneau, an avowed Gaullist who has thrown his support to the military-civilian junta in Algiers trying to put De Gaulle into power.

The junta took another step directly across the legal authority of Paris by appointing one of its members to take over all military and civilian powers in Corsica, the Mediterranean island where the junta seized control Saturday.

Col. Jean Thomaszo was in effect named governor of Corsica.

The appointment showed that the insurgents under Salan had full control over Corsica.

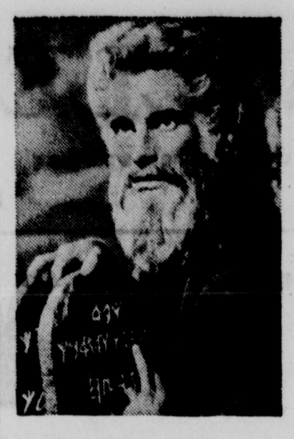

New Housing Fund Released by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today released an additional $300 million to carry out the government's anti-recession housing program.

The Budget Bureau made the money available to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy government-backed home loans.

In an effort to revive building as a counter to the recession, Congress made available up to $1 billion for FNMA purchases of FHA and VA mortgages.

The administration allocated only $300 million when the law went into effect last month, however, and $220 million of this already has been committed.

TEN COMMANDMENTS — As Moses, Charlton Heston heads the massive cast of "The Ten Commandments", currently being screened at the Grand Theater. The epic was held over until Saturday, due to the demand.

PUCO Studies 3-Company Merger Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission took under advisement today the application companies to merge into one firm having about 152,000 customers, mostly in eastern, southern and western Ohio.

No protests to the proposed merger were raised at a public hearing before commission member Ralph Winter.

The companies are General Telephone Co. of Ohio with 99,600 subscribers; Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. with 50,000 subscribers, and Chesapeake Telephone Co. in Lawrence County with 2,400 subscribers.

The three companies now have the same officers. Clair E. Williams is president of each. He was the main witness at today's hearing, and he pointed out General Telephone resulted from the merger of other telephone companies.

Winter said that Chesapeake subscribers now pay lower rates than subscribers getting the same service from General Telephone, and wondered whether the rates could be called discriminatory if the merger is approved.

He said that if Chesapeake rates should be increased later on, after a rate hearing, those subscribers would be paying more than they do now for the same service. He added subscribers in a town like Montpelier which gets service comparable to Chesapeake might feel they are being discriminated against because they now pay higher rates than those in Chesapeake.

Attorney Sid Griffith representing all three companies, said the merger would result in operating economies.

Special Milk Plan Lauded by O'Neill

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio child care agencies were urged today to participate in a revised state-federal special milk program.

"Since Congress has simplified the eligibility requirements," Gov. C. William O'Neill said, "all qualified agencies should take advantage of the opportunity to encourage the consumption of whole milk by the children they serve."

The special milk program permits non-profit, tax-exempt camps, child care centers, institutions and similar agencies training and caring for children to be reimbursed from federal funds for milk served.

Both Sides Blamed In Aide's Death

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Jordan each blamed the other today for the death of Canadian truce chief Lt. Col. George Flint, killed in a crossfire while trying to arrange a truce between battling units of the two nations.

Flint's own chief of staff said it could not be determined which side fired the bullet that felled the head of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission on Mt. Scopus in Old Jerusalem Monday. Four Israelis also were killed on the Jordan-surrounded Israeli enclave adjoining the Mount of Olives.

House Leaders OK No Tax Cut Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today he is "in full accord" with President Eisenhower's recommendation against substantial tax reductions this year.

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, concurred in Rayburn's statement at a joint news conference.

Since tax-raising and tax-cutting legislation must originate in the House, the position of the House speaker and the chairman of the tax-writing committee could be considered decisive on the issue.

Mills said his committee will start consideration Wednesday of a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at their present levels.

These rates, under existing law, would drop automatically July 1. Eisenhower has asked Congress to continue them to prevent an estimated $3 billion drop in revenues.

* * *

SEVERAL MEMBERS of Congress have said they will seek a reduction in the excise tax on automobiles whose sales have been lagging.

A bill to extend the present corporation and excise rates is expected to reach the House floor early in June.

Rayburn said both he and Mills are "in accord with the statement from the President that there will be no further recommendations for tax reductions this year."

"I have never thought that a tax reduction would be very potent in stopping a recession," Rayburn said. He added he could not comment on whether the recession is tapering off.

Republican congressional leaders said the administration's stand against any antirecession tax cut is prompted by the uneasy international situation and the threat of inflation. Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California gave newsmen that word after he and other GOP chiefs had held their weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Eisenhower Monday said he opposes any general tax reduction now. In doing so he renewed his request for a one-year extension of corporation and excise taxes at current levels.

Indonesian Rebel Pilot Said Yankee

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian army said tonight the pilot of a rebel Indonesian bomber shot down by government forces is an American. The army identified him as Allan Lawrence Pope of Miami, Fla.

The army said Pope was one of two airmen captured after their U.S.-built B26 bomber was shot down in flames near Amboy May 18 while attacking Indonesian government ships.

The chief army spokesman, Lt. Col. Pirngadie, said both captured airmen had been brought to Jakarta and are held at an undisclosed place. He said Pope is 30 and has a wife and two children.

He said documents found on him showed that Pope formerly was a U.S. Air Force Lieutenant and now is with the "Civil Air Transport, with headquarters in Taipei, Formosa." CAT is the air line founded by Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault of Flying Tiger fame.

Pirngadie said Pope had admitted receiving $10,000 from Indonesian rebel leader Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual.

U.S. Embassy officials here said they knew nothing about Pope and had not been told of his capture.

Pro-West Italian Party Shows Gain

ROME (AP) — Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats today boosted their parliamentary strength but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from the nationwide election Sunday and Monday strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since World War II.

With about 70 per cent of the vote counted for the lower house, the Christian Democrats had won 42.7 per cent, compared with 40.1 in the last election. The Communist-Socialist left was up from 35.2 in 1953 to 37.5.

U.S. Aid for Red Satellites Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today formally proposed economic aid for the Soviet Union's European satellites. This is the area of maximum vulnerability in the Soviet complex.

The committee's recommendation is part of a $3.7 billion foreign aid program. It proposes unprecedented authority for President Eisenhower to provide economic and financial aid for Yugolsavia, Poland, East Germany and other satellites.

The committee said it "believes that the risks are outweighed by the increased chance for world peace which may result if the United States can help some countries within the Communist bloc gradually to loosen their bonds."

Stock Mart Holding on Dead Center

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained on dead center in moderate trading early this afternoon.

A hodge-podge of small gains and losses made a pretty even division among key stocks.

Agreement among spokesman for both major parties on a no-tax-cut policy was major news but Wall Street has been fairly indifferent to this question.

Rails, resting after their rise Monday, showed minor fluctuations.

The market was again in a technical resistance area to further advance because it was near the 1958 highs where stock is available for sale. The continued rise in steel production and another copper price boost at the custom smelter level were bullish factors.

Lukens Steel, Goodyear and American Cyanamid were off about a point each while Union Carbide's loss was a bit more than that.

Otherwise it was virtually a featureless market.

U.S. government bonds were mixed.

Buckeye Lake Rides Closed

COLUMBUS (AP)—All amusement rides at Buckeye Lake have been ordered closed for a safety inspection following a weekend accident in which 15 persons were injured on a roller coaster.

ing clamor for the World War II hero to take over.

* * *

DE GAULLE announced earlier in the day he was moving to take over the government. He urged the nation to remain calm.

He promised a quick contact with the Gaullist leaders in Algeria to settle that crisis.

New trouble boiled up for France. Hundreds of thousands of workers began laying down their tools in a genera, strike called by a huge Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor to protest against De Gaulle's rise to power.

Paris suburban train service was tied up. Northern coal fields were deserted. Many factories were idle. But non-Communist unions were not cooperating. Paris subway service was reported normal. Only 40 of the city's 1,700 buses were idle.

De Gaulle moved today in utmost secrecy.

No one at his Paris headquarters had advance notice that he intended issuing a statement.

From his country home 150 miles from Paris, De Gaulle telephoned the declaration to his orderly officer, Lt. Col. Gaston de Bonneval, in Paris.

It said in part: "I started yesterday the regular process necessary for the establishment of a republican government capable of assuring the unity and the independence of the country.

* * *

"I DEPEND on that process being carried through and that the country will show by its calm and its dignity that it wishes it to succeed.

"I expect the land, sea and air forces in Algeria to remain exemplary under the orders of their chiefs — Gen. Raoul Salan, Adm. Philippe Auboyneau, Gen. Edmond Jouhaud."

The military chiefs in Algeria first launched the move to bring De Gaulle to power.

De Gaulle is 67. He dropped out of French political life in 1946 disdainful of the nation's political system. He stepped into France's blackest crisis two weeks ago when he came to Paris to announce that he was willing to take over the reins of government, but on his own terms. Then he returned to his country home.

Before driving to Paris, De Gaulle conferred with the governor of his province, Marcel Diebolt, who then sped ahead to the capital and saw Pflimlin.

The insurgent regime in Algiers gained a naval arm when ships of the French Mediterranean fleet steamed into Algeria ports.

An insurgent spokesman said the ships, which include an aircraft carrier, "will obey their commanding admiral." That is Admiral Auboyneau, an avowed Gaullist who has thrown his support to the military-civilian junta in Algiers trying to put De Gaulle into power.

The junta took another step directly across the legal authority of Paris by appointing one of its members to take over all military and civilian powers in Corsica, the Mediterranean island where the junta seized control Saturday.

Col. Jean Thomaszo was in effect named governor of Corsica.

The appointment showed that the insurgents under Salan had full control over Corsica.

New Housing Fund Released by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today released an additional $300 million to carry out the government's anti-recession housing program.

The Budget Bureau made the money available to the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy government-backed home loans.

In an effort to revive building as a counter to the recession, Congress made available up to $1 billion for FNMA purchases of FHA and VA mortgages.

The administration allocated only $300 million when the law went into effect last month, however, and $220 million of this already has been committed.

PUCO Studies 3-Company Merger Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission took under advisement today the application companies to merge into one firm having about 152,000 customers, mostly in eastern, southern and western Ohio.

No protests to the proposed merger were raised at a public hearing before commission member Ralph Winter.

The companies are General Telephone Co. of Ohio with 99,600 subscribers; Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. with 50,000 subscribers, and Chesapeake Telephone Co. in Lawrence County with 2,400 subscribers.

The three companies now have the same officers. Clair E. Williams is president of each. He was the main witness at today's hearing, and he pointed out General Telephone resulted from the merger of other telephone companies.

Winter said that Chesapeake subscribers now pay lower rates than subscribers getting the same service from General Telephone, and wondered whether the rates could be called discriminatory if the merger is approved.

He said that if Chesapeake rates should be increased later on, after a rate hearing, those subscribers would be paying more than they do now for the same service. He added subscribers in a town like Montpelier which gets service comparable to Chesapeake might feel they are being discriminated against because they now pay higher rates than those in Chesapeake.

Attorney Sid Griffith representing all three companies, said the merger would result in operating economies.

Special Milk Plan Lauded by O'Neill

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio child care agencies were urged today to participate in a revised state-federal special milk program.

"Since Congress has simplified the eligibility requirements," Gov. C. William O'Neill said, "all qualified agencies should take advantage of the opportunity to encourage the consumption of whole milk by the children they serve."

The special milk program permits non-profit, tax-exempt camps, child care centers, institutions and similar agencies training and caring for children to be reimbursed from federal funds for milk served.

Both Sides Blamed In Aide's Death

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel and Jordan each blamed the other today for the death of Canadian truce chief Lt. Col. George Flint, killed in a crossfire while trying to arrange a truce between battling units of the two nations.

Flint's own chief of staff said it could not be determined which side fired the bullet that felled the head of the Israel-Jordan Mixed Armistice Commission on Mt. Scopus in Old Jerusalem Monday. Four Israelis also were killed on the Jordan-surrounded Israeli enclave adjoining the Mount of Olives.

House Leaders OK No Tax Cut Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) said today he is "in full accord" with President Eisenhower's recommendation against substantial tax reductions this year.

Rep. Wilbur Mills (D-Ark), chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, concurred in Rayburn's statement at a joint news conference.

Since tax-raising and tax-cutting legislation must originate in the House, the position of the House speaker and the chairman of the tax-writing committee could be considered decisive on the issue.

Mills said his committee will start consideration Wednesday of a bill to continue corporate and excise tax rates at their present levels.

These rates, under existing law, would drop automatically July 1. Eisenhower has asked Congress to continue them to prevent an estimated $3 billion drop in revenues.

* * *

SEVERAL MEMBERS of Congress have said they will seek a reduction in the excise tax on automobiles whose sales have been lagging.

A bill to extend the present corporation and excise rates is expected to reach the House floor early in June.

Rayburn said both he and Mills are "in accord with the statement from the President that there will be no further recommendations for tax reductions this year."

"I have never thought that a tax reduction would be very potent in stopping a recession," Rayburn said. He added he could not comment on whether the recession is tapering off.

Republican congressional leaders said the administration's stand against any antirecession tax cut is prompted by the uneasy international situation and the threat of inflation. Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California gave newsmen that word after he and other GOP chiefs had held their weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Eisenhower Monday said he opposes any general tax reduction now. In doing so he renewed his request for a one-year extension of corporation and excise taxes at current levels.

Indonesian Rebel Pilot Said Yankee

JAKARTA (AP) — The Indonesian army said tonight the pilot of a rebel Indonesian bomber shot down by government forces is an American. The army identified him as Allan Lawrence Pope of Miami, Fla.

The army said Pope was one of two airmen captured after their U.S.-built B26 bomber was shot down in flames near Amboy May 18 while attacking Indonesian government ships.

The chief army spokesman, Lt. Col. Pirngadie, said both captured airmen had been brought to Jakarta and are held at an undisclosed place. He said Pope is 30 and has a wife and two children.

He said documents found on him showed that Pope formerly was a U.S. Air Force Lieutenant and now is with the "Civil Air Transport, with headquarters in Taipei, Formosa." CAT is the air line founded by Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault of Flying Tiger fame.

Pirngadie said Pope had admitted receiving $10,000 from Indonesian rebel leader Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual.

U.S. Embassy officials here said they knew nothing about Pope and had not been told of his capture.

Pro-West Italian Party Shows Gain

ROME (AP) — Italy's pro-Western Christian Democrats today boosted their parliamentary strength but once more fell short of a majority in the face of matching gains by leftist forces.

The Christian Democrats appeared to have emerged from the nationwide election Sunday and Monday strong enough to continue to govern Italy as they have since World War II.

With about 70 per cent of the vote counted for the lower house, the Christian Democrats had won 42.7 per cent, compared with 40.1 in the last election. The Communist-Socialist left was up from 35.2 in 1953 to 37.5.

U.S. Aid for Red Satellites Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today formally proposed economic aid for the Soviet Union's European satellites. This is the area of maximum vulnerability in the Soviet complex.

The committee's recommendation is part of a $3.7 billion foreign aid program. It proposes unprecedented authority for President Eisenhower to provide economic and financial aid for Yugolsavia, Poland, East Germany and other satellites.

The committee said it "believes that the risks are outweighed by the increased chance for world peace which may result if the United States can help some countries within the Communist bloc gradually to loosen their bonds."

There Is Hope for France

Again and again Russia, by ill-timed threatening moves, has scared the United States Congress into adopting key measures to strengthen American security. The French National Assembly was more blase. It could paralyze the government at will, and reveled in the privilege.

But now a new atmosphere has appeared in Paris—firmness, decision, virtual unity. What neither the German invasion of 1940 nor rampaging postwar Russia could accomplish has been achieved, at least temporarily, by army rebellion in Algeria.

The French National Assembly, traditionally reluctant to give any French cabinet the means to govern, gave Premier Pflimlin fresh powers to deal with Algeria by the overwhelming vote of 475-100.

As a result of Pflimlin's strong attitude, there is relative calm both in France and in Algeria. There are 35,000 policemen in Paris, acting in support of Interior Minister Moch's tough line to nip trouble in the bud.

A similar trend is visible in Algeria. The army seized power, but there is growing evidence that army leaders—most of them, anyway—do not want to fight their own government and are showing an increasing desire to maintain at least the appearance of loyalty and legality. Premier Pflimlin has played along with this attitude. It now seems as if things would straighten themselves out.

But this can happen only so long as there is unity in Paris. The National Assembly must continue to back Premier Pflimlin as he uses the powers it has given him., raises taxes, and pushes constitutional reform.

If the assembly can stay scared long enough to do that, the crisis that threatened France may prove to be her salvation.

20,000 over 85 Still on Job

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That some folks just won't retire; there are more than 20,000 men and women over 85 in the United States who still hold jobs.

That if you could leap as well for your size as your cat, you'd be able to jump 90 feet.

That the ladies really are making their mark in the financial world; the nation now has more than 10,000 gal bank executives.

That the question asked most often of longtime headliners by their fans is, "How old are you?" Kate Smith is one of the few stars who don't duck the query; she doesn't mind admitting she's 49.

That man isn't the only creature who bites his nails under stress; rats will do the same when faced with a problem.

That the newest campus card game craze is called "Nada." It's bridge in reverse; you contract to lose tricks.

That for some reason dark haired girls who deliver TV commercials are reported to do a better selling job than blondes.

That this ad appeared in a Greenwich Village Gazette: "After years of intensive study for the concert stage, I am prepared to offer my services as an accomplished baby sitter."

That on Feb. 18, 1929, someone paid $625,000 for a seat on the stock exchange. For that price today he could probably buy a whole row.

That cheese makes as good bait for trout as for mice.

That one of the world's first wonder drugs was crude oil. Ancient Egyptians and Babylonians drank it to cure such diverse ailments as cataracts, coughs, toothaches and shortness of breath.

That pretty Kitty Rothman of the Hotel Edison in New York City believes she is America's tallest hatcheck girl; she stands six feet five.

That some 1,125,000 students in 11,273 U.S. high schools are now taking courses in safe driving. Wonder how many are studying physics and chemistry?

That the residents of New Orleans eat more veal per capita than those of any other American city; the most veal resistant city is Huntington, W. Va.

That in the 17th Century a Russian Czar ordered that any women caught smoking be flogged or paraded through the streets with the stem of her pipe stuck through her nose.

That the squirrel's name comes from two Greek words which literally mean, "he who holds his tail over his back to shade himself."

That it was Cyril Connolly who observed, "the true index of a man's character is the health of his wife."

The Nationalistic Urge

By George Sokolsky

It has become very fashionable to try to frighten the American people into believing that if they do not do thus and so, a country will rush into the arms of Soviet Russia. The logic of it seems to be that if we do not obey the dictates of each harum-scarum little politician who emerges, he will send an invitation to Khrushchev to underwrite him.

That is what I get out of a statement issued by Harold B. Minor, President, American Friends of the Middle East, Inc. He starts off with these sentences:

"The American position in the Middle East has declined alarmingly in the last decade. Unless this decline is arrested, there is grave danger that American influence in that part of the world will be eliminated within a relatively short period of time. The result will be a drift, negative and unwanted by the peoples of the area, towards Soviet influence..."

There has been no such drift in the Middle East. What has taken place is an important, historical nationalist revolutionary movement which started as an Arab effort to free those countries from Turkish rule, culminating, in its first phase, in the defeat and break-up of the Turkish Empire during World War I.

The second phase of this movement was the emergence of Kemal in Turkey and of the Hashimites in the Arabic countries, the organization of the mandated areas, including Syria, Lebanon, Palestine, Transjordania, the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine under the Balfour Declaration. This period ended in a struggle between Nazi Germany and the Allies for control of the area during World War II.

World War II produced an intensification of nationalism in the Middle East. At least five extraneous factors played by role in stimulating the Arab nationalist movement which had been more or less dormant for centuries. One was the American supported missionary schools which had played an enormous part in developing a modern intellectual class in Arab countries, particularly in Lebanon and Syria. Another has been the competition during World War II between the Nazis and the Allies for Arab friendship and support. It was President Roosevelt, for instance, who gave comfort and some financial assistance to the Arab League.

On the other hand, the establishment of Israel as an independent state by authority of the United Nations created a Western enclave in the Middle East which set standards of life so far beyond anything among Arab nations that Israel became a target of envy and opposition. Furthermore, the question of Arab refugees, which might have been solved by statesmanship, was used on all sides as a stimulant for disorder and disaster.

Soviet Russia moved upon the Middle East from several directions. It stimulated every anti-Western movement almost to the point of fomenting a holy war. Local political leaders took advantage of Soviet activity in their own interest. Thus the Arab world divided into two distinct groups of nations: those who supported the West: those who were willing to follow Soviet Russia.

The leader of the pro-Soviet Arabs is Nasser, the dictator of Egypt, a fiercely ambitious politician who seeks to establish a third power of enormous population and bargaining ability between the United States and its allies and Soviet Russia and its satellites. Nasser has succeeded bringing Syria and Yemen into his orbit. He is now attempting to conquer Lebanon by civil war. Given the opportunity, he would form an Arab state from the Atlantic to Pakistan with himself at its head.

Minor suggests that we "should look at the Middle East problem through American eyes and in the light of the American national interest..." This is an excellent suggestion but what are "American eyes"? Are they the eyes of those Americans who distrust an upstart dictator, having witnessed the historic results of Mussolini and Hitler, or are they the eyes of the management of an oil company that worries about endangered properties, or are they the eyes of a Secretary of State who labors eternally to keep his country out of war, yet with dignity and honor?

Whose "American eyes" are we to look through?

Certainly it is not possible to trust to the judgment of Harold B. Minor who speaks well of the one he calls President Nasser. Must we always pay blackmail?

Diabetic Needs Watchful Care

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

If there is a diabetic in your home you must always be on the alert for possible reactions in insulin.

Whenever a diabetic who is taking insulin behaves in an unusual manner, and complains of unusual sensations, think of an insulin reaction.

Morning lassitude and headache are mild reactions which may result from a protamine zinc insulin.

Other symptoms of insulin reactions include a feeling of faintness, palpitation, excessive perspiration, headache, double vision, hunger, emotional instability, trembling, unsteadiness of gait and even stupor.

Sometimes the diabetic will suffer convulsion and become nauseous and vomit during reactions, although such drastic reactions are fairly rare.

The milder symptoms generally occur when the blood sugar is below 70 mg. When the count is under 50 mg. stupor might result.

Any one of several things might cause such reactions.

They tend to appear when the diabetic takes an overdose of insulin, when he fails to eat a full meal or when he does not eat eat at the expected time.

When traveling by train, bus or auto, therefore, it probably is a good idea not to take an insulin injection until your next meal is definitely in sight. Delay in eating following an injection might bring about a rather severe reaction.

In fact, any decreased need for insulin could mean that a reaction might follow an injection.

When any of these symptoms are noticed, it's best to act fast. Call your doctor and give the patient orange juice or some other food containing from 5 to 20 mg. of carbohydrate.

Usually, the sugar will be absorbed quickly and recovery can be expected within a few minutes. Even though recovery is complete, let your doctor know about the circumstances leading up to the reaction.

Question and Answer

Mrs. P. N.: Is penicillin taken by mouth as effective as when it is given by injection?

Answer: It has been shown that penicillin given by injection usually produces a higher and more rapid concentration of the drug in the blood to fight the infection. However, if the drug is given in large enough doses by mouth, it is usually efective against the germs sensitive to it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, anxious to get home for the November elections, has a hatful of problems to solve before it quits. It's almost June 1. At the rate it's going, Congress won't get out of here before sometime in August.

Here are major pieces of legislation still unfinished: defense reorganization, Alaskan statehood, taxes, labor reforms, foreign aid, reciprocal trade, extended unemployment pay, and a space agency.

In addition, action still has to be taken on the usual appropriations bills — voting the money to keep the government agencies running another year.

Defense Reorganization—Neither house has acted on this yet. President Eisenhower months ago asked for a streamlining of the Defense Department.

Alaskan Statehood—Giving Alaska statehood is a question kicked around in Congress for years. The House may decide yes or no this week. If the House boots this aside, no Senate action will have any meaning.

If the House approves, the Senate may still stall because approval of statehood for Alaska is almost certain to bring pressure on the Senate to approve statehood for Hawaii too.

Taxes—Monday President Eisenhower came out against an income tax cut, even though there is a recession. So it's unlikely those taxes will be chopped this year.

But unless Congress acts to stop them, there will automatically be reductions July 1 on corporation taxes — from 52 to 47 per cent — and on certain excise taxes, most of them imposed during the Korean War.

Eisenhower asked Congress not to let the automatic reduction take place, for it would mean a loss of about three billion dollars in revenue to the government.

Labor Reforms — By mid-June a bill to put some curbs on unions — or at least on union bosses — should land in the Senate's lap for consideration. This is a hot potato.

If the Senate approves some kind of reform bill, there still won't be any reform unless the House also gives its okay. And maybe the House won't.

Foreign Aid — The House has passed a foreign aid bill, and it may get Senate consideration this week. There's no question foreign aid will be continued. The only question is: How much will Congress cut it?

Eisenhower asked $3,900,000,000. He won't get that much. But first Congress must approve an authorization bill — which sets a limit on how much can be spent — and then it must vote the actual appropriations. That's another eight weeks away.

Reciprocal Trade — Neither House has acted on this yet. The House may start debate on it this week. But it will be sometime in June, at the earliest, before the Senate acts. Some kind of reciprocal trade bill is sure to be passed.

Again the question is: What kind? Eisenhower asked that his power to make agreements with other countries — to lower tariffs on their goods if they do the same on American imports — be continued another five years.

There's been a lot of pressure to boost, not lower, tariffs on imports which compete with American industries hard hit by the recession.

Extended Unemployment Pay — The House has approved a bill to give federal loans to states which want to extend unemployment pay to jobless workers who have already used up all this kind of pay to which they're entitled. The Senate starts on it today.

Space Agency — Neither house has yet acted on a bill to establish civilian control over developments for the exploration of space.

In addition to all these items, there are other odds and ends which Congress may tackle before adjourning.

By George Sokolsky

It has become very fashionable to try to frighten the American people into believing that if they do not do thus and so, a country will rush into the arms of Soviet Russia. The logic of it seems to be that if we do not obey the dictates of each harum-scarum little politician who emerges, he will send an invitation to Khrushchev to underwrite him.

That is what I get out of a statement issued by Harold B. Minor, President, American Friends of the Middle East, Inc. He starts off with these sentences:

"The American position in the Middle East has declined alarmingly in the last decade. Unless this decline is arrested, there is grave danger that American influence in that part of the world will be eliminated within a relatively short period of time. The result will be a drift, negative and unwanted by the peoples of the area, towards Soviet influence..."

There has been no such drift in the Middle East. What has taken place is an important, historical nationalist revolutionary movement which started as an Arab effort to free those countries from Turkish rule, culminating, in its first phase, in the defeat and break-up of the Turkish Empire during World War I.

The second phase of this movement was the emergence of Kemal in Turkey and of the Hashimites in the Arabic countries, the organization of the mandated areas, including Syria, Lebanon, Palestine, Transjordania, the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine under the Balfour Declaration. This period ended in a struggle between Nazi Germany and the Allies for control of the area during World War II.

World War II produced an intensification of nationalism in the Middle East. At least five extraneous factors played by role in stimulating the Arab nationalist movement which had been more or less dormant for centuries. One was the American supported missionary schools which had played an enormous part in developing a modern intellectual class in Arab countries, particularly in Lebanon and Syria. Another has been the competition during World War II between the Nazis and the Allies for Arab friendship and support. It was President Roosevelt, for instance, who gave comfort and some financial assistance to the Arab League.

On the other hand, the establishment of Israel as an independent state by authority of the United Nations created a Western enclave in the Middle East which set standards of life so far beyond anything among Arab nations that Israel became a target of envy and opposition. Furthermore, the question of Arab refugees, which might have been solved by statesmanship, was used on all sides as a stimulant for disorder and disaster.

Soviet Russia moved upon the Middle East from several directions. It stimulated every anti-Western movement almost to the point of fomenting a holy war. Local political leaders took advantage of Soviet activity in their own interest. Thus the Arab world divided into two distinct groups of nations: those who supported the West: those who were willing to follow Soviet Russia.

The leader of the pro-Soviet Arabs is Nasser, the dictator of Egypt, a fiercely ambitious politician who seeks to establish a third power of enormous population and bargaining ability between the United States and its allies and Soviet Russia and its satellites. Nasser has succeeded bringing Syria and Yemen into his orbit. He is now attempting to conquer Lebanon by civil war. Given the opportunity, he would form an Arab state from the Atlantic to Pakistan with himself at its head.

Minor suggests that we "should look at the Middle East problem through American eyes and in the light of the American national interest..." This is an excellent suggestion but what are "American eyes"? Are they the eyes of those Americans who distrust an upstart dictator, having witnessed the historic results of Mussolini and Hitler, or are they the eyes of the management of an oil company that worries about endangered properties, or are they the eyes of a Secretary of State who labors eternally to keep his country out of war, yet with dignity and honor?

Whose "American eyes" are we to look through?

Certainly it is not possible to trust to the judgment of Harold B. Minor who speaks well of the one he calls President Nasser. Must we always pay blackmail?

Diabetic Needs Watchful Care

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

If there is a diabetic in your home you must always be on the alert for possible reactions in insulin.

Whenever a diabetic who is taking insulin behaves in an unusual manner, and complains of unusual sensations, think of an insulin reaction.

Morning lassitude and headache are mild reactions which may result from a protamine zinc insulin.

Other symptoms of insulin reactions include a feeling of faintness, palpitation, excessive perspiration, headache, double vision, hunger, emotional instability, trembling, unsteadiness of gait and even stupor.

Sometimes the diabetic will suffer convulsion and become nauseous and vomit during reactions, although such drastic reactions are fairly rare.

The milder symptoms generally occur when the blood sugar is below 70 mg. When the count is under 50 mg. stupor might result.

Any one of several things might cause such reactions.

They tend to appear when the diabetic takes an overdose of insulin, when he fails to eat a full meal or when he does not eat at the expected time.

When traveling by train, bus or auto, therefore, it probably is a good idea not to take an insulin injection until your next meal is definitely in sight. Delay in eating following an injection might bring about a rather severe reaction.

In fact, any decreased need for insulin could mean that a reaction might follow an injection.

When any of these symptoms are noticed, it's best to act fast. Call your doctor and give the patient orange juice or some other food containing from 5 to 20 mg. of carbohydrate.

Usually, the sugar will be absorbed quickly and recovery can be expected within a few minutes. Even though recovery is complete, let your doctor know about the circumstances leading up to the reaction.

Question and Answer

Mrs. P. N.: Is penicillin taken by mouth as effective as when it is given by injection?

Answer: It has been shown that penicillin given by injection usually produces a higher and more rapid concentration of the drug in the blood to fight the infection. However, if the drug is given in large enough doses by mouth, it is usually efective against the germs sensitive to it.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, anxious to get home for the November elections, has a hatful of problems to solve before it quits. It's almost June 1. At the rate it's going, Congress won't get out of here before sometime in August.

Here are major pieces of legislation still unfinished: defense reorganization, Alaskan statehood, taxes, labor reforms, foreign aid, reciprocal trade, extended unemployment pay, and a space agency.

In addition, action still has to be taken on the usual appropriations bills — voting the money to keep the government agencies running another year.

Defense Reorganization—Neither house has acted on this yet. President Eisenhower months ago asked for a streamlining of the Defense Department.

Alaskan Statehood—Giving Alaska statehood is a question kicked around in Congress for years. The House may decide yes or no this week. If the House boots this aside, no Senate action will have any meaning.

If the House approves, the Senate may still stall because approval of statehood for Alaska is almost certain to bring pressure on the Senate to approve statehood for Hawaii too.

Taxes—Monday President Eisenhower came out against an income tax cut, even though there is a recession. So it's unlikely those taxes will be chopped this year.

But unless Congress acts to stop them, there will automatically be reductions July 1 on corporation taxes — from 52 to 47 per cent — and on certain excise taxes, most of them imposed during the Korean War.

Eisenhower asked Congress not to let the automatic reduction take place, for it would mean a loss of about three billion dollars in revenue to the government.

Labor Reforms — By mid-June a bill to put some curbs on unions — or at least on union bosses — should land in the Senate's lap for consideration. This is a hot potato.

If the Senate approves some kind of reform bill, there won't be any reform unless the House also gives its okay. And maybe the House won't.

Foreign Aid — The House has passed a foreign aid bill, and it may get Senate consideration this week. There's no question foreign aid will be continued. The only question is: How much will Congress cut it?

Eisenhower asked $3,900,000,000. He won't get that much. But first Congress must approve an authorization bill — which sets a limit on how much can be spent — and then it must vote the actual appropriations. That's another eight weeks away.

Reciprocal Trade — Neither House has acted on this yet. The House may start debate on it this week. But it will be sometime in June, at the earliest, before the Senate acts. Some kind of reciprocal trade bill is sure to be passed.

Again the question is: What kind? Eisenhower asked that his power to make agreements with other countries — to lower tariffs on their goods if they do the same on American imports — be continued another five years.

There's been a lot of pressure to boost, not lower, tariffs on imports which compete with American industries hard hit by the recession.

Extended Unemployment Pay — The House has approved a bill to give federal loans to states which want to extend unemployment pay to jobless workers who have already used up all this kind of pay to which they're entitled. The Senate starts on it today.

Space Agency — Neither house has yet acted on a bill to establish civilian control over developments for the exploration of space.

In addition to all these items, there are other odds and ends which Congress may tackle before adjourning.

Celebes -- Tough Nut to Crack

U.S. Professor Gives View Of Rebellion in Indonesia

EDITOR'S NOTE — This exclusive story by a California professor who taught in Indonesia is the first eyewitness report on the North Celebes revolt. Probing far behind the confusing facade of the strife-torn republic, he explains from first-hand experience what the rebellion is all about, what the insurgents are fighting against — and for.

By JUSTIN K. B. FULLER
Written for The Associated Press

The fighting which erupted on Central Sumatra in the Indonesian rebellion foreshadowed government moves against the North Celebes. The Sumatran insurgents were quickly routed. But I believe Jakarta will find the Celebes a tougher nut to crack.

I hadn't expected civil war when I arrived last October at Menado, Minahasa Province, in the North Celebes. I had come to teach anthropology in Tondano Teachers College.

Almost immediately after starting at Tondano, I began commuting 30 miles a day to each also at Permesta University, established by the Indonesian Rebel Permesta (all together) Party at Menado.

In those earlier, placid days of the rebellion nobody seemed to mind that I was working both sides of the educational street. The central government at Jakarta, which had hired me for the Tondano post, actually granted me permission to work at Permesta University.

It was at Permesta University that I met and grew to understand the ideals and spirations of the North Celebes rebels, who want the re-establishment of the United States of Indonesia which President Sukarno abolished and replaced with a centralized republic seven years ago.

The first government attack at Medano came as a complete surprise Feb. 22. Not a shot was fired at the attacking planes. They made three bombing and strafing passes, killing six and wounding many more.

In March, two Indonesia Navy corvettes shelled Bitung and Menado. Kerosene and oil tanks at the Sheel Co. compound were hit at Menado. One person was killed and eight wounded in the hour-long shelling and the people of Menado now realized they were involved in a real-life war.

Most of my students enlisted in the army. Many foreigners, including most of the Dutch, prepared to leave.

Prices rose, cigarettes vanished and gasoline — now that the tanks had been destroyed — was impossible to get without military authorization. What few ships did arrive brought weapons, and the province took on the appearance of an armed camp.

It seems to me that if Sukarno should lose the civil war, it will be because of the fighting spirit of the Minahasans.

Victory over rebellious Central Sumatra proved fairly easy. The real grievance of the Sumatrans was over-exploitation of their natural resources by a central government.

Instead of emphasizing this genuine grievance against the Jakarta government, the Sumatran rebel leaders stressed the communist menace. This, though real enough in Java, seemed to the Sumatrans a rather vague and distant threat.

In the Celebes, the powerful sentiment of anti-communism is combined with a strong — and clearly enunciated — sense of dissatisfaction with Jakarta.

The Permesta movement was proclaimed March 2, 1957, by Col. Ventje Sumual, military commander of East Indonesia.

For the workers of the North Celebes it has meant more jobs and higher wages, partly the result of the province's trade with Singapore. For the people in general — 60 per cent of whom are Protestant and 40 Roman Catholic — it took on the aspect of a Christian revival movement.

One of the first jobs of the Permesta movement was to clean up the local communists. Some 30 Red leaders were arrested. Communist Party headquarters was converted into an army barracks.

Although a new province was created, with a civilian governor of the Celebes to replace the old Jakarta control from Makasar 800 miles to the south, the real power of the Permesta government was in the hands of the military.

But while the army officers represent the authority behind the government, there is no atmosphere of military dictatorship.

The North Celebes is the only part of Indonesia which voluntarily joined the Dutch — it was never conquered. And after the Minahasans had accepted Dutch Sovereignty in the 17th century, they helped form the backbone of the Dutch colonial forces.

Dispute in Minahasan villages and towns are settled by public discussions, officials are elected and problems aired in "town meetings." Perhaps because they are a racial, religious and linguistic minority (they speak Philippine languages) the Minahasans have never taken kindly to any form of discrimination.

In contrast to the communist-inspired seizures of Dutch firms which were ordered by the central government in Java, the policy of the Permesta government has been to allow all foreign firms, including the old Dutch trading companies, to continue operations. The opening of direct trade with Singapore has meant a great boost for the North Celebese economy.

At the final faculty meeting of Permesta University in Manado, Maj. Korompis, an army lawyer who is both acting chief of police and chairman of the university, said a farewell to foreign lecturers which summarized the spirit of his government.

"It's like this: we must have a federal system in Indonesia. We're not a bunch of adventurers fighting for money or to avoid paying taxes. We believe in Indonesia and in support for the central government, but not for a central government which is composed partly of communists, partly of leaders who take our taxes but neglect our country."

'OPEN HEART' GIRL—Laura Lee Sporn, 4, poses beside the heart-lung machine which took over for 13 minutes while an 18-member surgical team closed a one-inch hole in her heart. The operation was performed May 2 at the Montefiore Hospital, the Bronx, N.Y. Laura will be leaving for home in about three weeks with a normal life ahead of her.

HEADS GOVERNORS—Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida receives a lei from Manu Lucas of Honolulu after the Democrat was chosen chairman of the Governors Conference at Bal Harbour, Fla. He succeeds Gov. William G. Stratton, Republican of Illinois. His election represented a political setback for northern liberals backing Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Adm. Felt Tapped As Pacific Boss

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has designated Adm. Harry D. Felt to become naval commander in chief in the Pacific upon the retirement Aug. 1 of Adm. Felix B. Stump.

Felt is now vice chief of naval operations. Eisenhower nominated Vice Adm. James S. Russell to take over that post when Felt assumes the top Pacific command.

Russell is now deputy commander in chief and chief of staff of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet.

Township' '57 Expenses Are $396,592

State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports that Pickaway county's townships last year had receipts of $383,851.38 and expenditures of $396,592.14 according to a tabulation of annual financial reports filed with him by township clerks.

The money which the townships received came from the following sources:

Property taxes, $134,533.17; Local Govt. Fund, $8,838.96; Gasoline Tax, $125,900.00; Auto Licenses, $37,023.11; Miscellaneous, $67,556.14.

Highways accounted for most of the total township expenditures which were as follows:

Trustees and Clerk, $55,000.35; Cemeteries, $20,820.99; Fire Protection, $11,993.46; Highways, $261,541.79; Miscellaneous $47,235.55.

This year Rhodes is planning something that has not been done before—a report on comparative statistics on townships and villages. For more than 40 years the State Auditor's office has issued such annual reports on counties and cities, and there have been many requests for similar information about villages and townships.

Europe To Get U.S. Voodoo Jets

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Twin-jet Voodoos capable of flying 1,200 miles an hour will be assigned to U.S. Air Force squadrons in Europe the next nine months, the Air Force says.

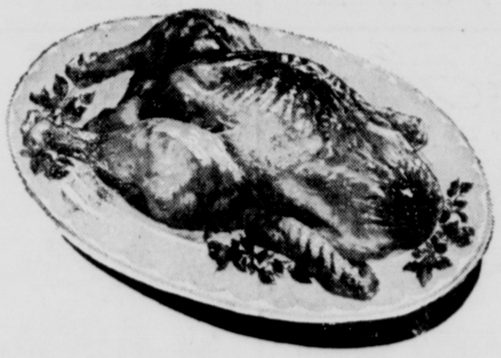

Fighter-type F101 Voodoos, which can carry nuclear weapons, are slated for use sometime this fall by the 3rd Air Force's 81st Fighter-Bomber Wing in England.

Reconnaissance versions of the single-seat aircraft will be delivered to the 66th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing starting late this summer. Two squadrons of the wing are stationed in Phalsbourg, France. The others will move to France from Sembach, Germany, in the near future.

Don't stand around in front of the Ashville Harrison Twp. Fire Department when an alarm goes off. You'll get trampled sure.

This 17-man volunteer department, well-equipped and well organized, really operates at the slightest sound of an alarm.

The group covers Ashville, Harrison Twp., Walnu Twp., half of Madison Twp., half of Scioto Twp. and half of Jackson Twp. and is subject to call in all of those places.

It's actually two departments, the Ashville department and the Harrison Twp. Department. Each department has two vehicles. The Ashville Department has a 150-gallon pumper and a pickup truck with a pump mounted on the front.

The Harrison Twp., Department has an 800-gallon tanker and a 500-gallon pumper. Ashville trucks do not leave the village limits, but Harrison Twp. equipment is used all over the area.

* * *

THE SAME CREW is on both departments, the chief is the same and the assistant chief is the same.

Chief is C. E. Cummins, 153 Long St., Ashville. The assistant is Don Thompson, 224 Randolph St. There are 17 regulars, a chaplain and six auxiliaries. It's strictly volunteer. Regulars get $3 per fire call.

It takes time to become a member of this exclusive group. First one has to become an auxiliary, then work his way up through the ranks until there is an opening on the regular department.

Thompson says that the way an auxiliary member handles himself largely determines whether or not he will ever be invited to become a member of the regular department. The entire regular force approves new members, with the mayor then appointing the new member.

CHIEFS CHECKS EQUIPMENT— Chief C. E. Cummins, Ashville-Harrison Twp. Fire Department, is shown checking extinguishers mounted on the side of the Harrison Twp. pumper. He is in charge of the 17-man regular volunteer fire force. (Staff Photo)

The fire house has a unique system for finding location of fires. Every residence in Harrison Twp. has a number. When reporting fires the residents are asked to give their own special fire number—like "102" or "438."

By plugging in an electrode at the proper number on a board dotted with small lights, the department immediately can locate the fire. If the fire number is, say 174, the first one to reach the fire house will plug in the map electrode at 174 and a light will show the location, what road and which house. The firemen don't have to know the names of the persons living there.

The light is left on so that as volunteers arrive, they merely look on the board to see where they are expected to report for duty.

Fire department officials are urging all residents of Harrison Twp. to be sure they have a regular fire number and that the number is given when reporting a fire. This procedure simplifies operations and eliminates the chances of mis-hearing the name and location of some excited persons calling for department aid.

'Peacetime Veteran' Misleading Term

(Questions of interest to ex-servicemen should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the Courthouse in Circleville.)

Q— What are the eligibility requirements for Veterans' Unemployment Benefits?

A— Any person who served in the active service of the Armed Forces on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to Feb. 1, 1955, shall be eligible to receive unemployment compensation, provided, he was discharged or released from service under other than dishonorable conditions and his service was continuous for a period of 90 days or more or was terminated in less than 90 days by reason of line of duty disability.

Q— I entered the service on Jan. 31, 1955. Am I entitled to attend college under the G. I. Bill?

A— You just made it. The law states that a veteran is entitled to educational benefits under the GI Bill provided he was in active service for 90 days or more, any part of which was during the period of June 27, 1950 and prior to Feb. 1, 1955. You had one day in that period of time, so you are entitled to educational benefits not to exceed 36 months. Remember this though, you must have been in school by Jan. 31, 1958, which is three years after your release from active duty.

Q— Can a peacetime veteran receive emergency hospitalization?

* * *

A— THAT QUESTION is misleading. In the first place there is no such thing as a "peacetime veteran". According to VA ruling, a person in the service during peacetime is known as a "peacetime serviceman", and he is not entitled to hospitalization in a VA hospital under any circumstances unless it is for a service connected disability. He cannot even receive emergency hospitalization.

Q— I am a Spanish - American War Veteran. Must I have a service connected disability in order to receive out-patient treatment at VA expense?

A—All disabilities which a Spanish - American War veteran may have are presumed to be the result of active service for treatment purposes, and may be treated at VA expense. This ruling applies only to Spanish - American War veterans.

Q— I am a widow of a World War I veteran. I am receiving a death pension. I have a chance to sell a piece of property. Must I report the income from this sale to the VA?

A— Yes, you must. If the income from this sale causes you to exceed the income limitation which applies to your case, your pension will be discontinued for this year. However, you can pick the pension up again next year.

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry Truman and Mrs. Truman sailed Monday on a pleasure cruise of the Mediterranean.

He said at a press conference aboard the liner Independence before sailing that his trip is strictly a vacation, and that he wanted to "get out of reach of telephones and reporters and get myself in shape for this fall's election."

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A bolt of lightning struck a crowded transit bus at a busy Portland intersection Monday evening, setting it afire.

'Stapling Machine' Used To Repair Blood Vessels

OTTAWA (AP) — A team of surgeons and engineers has developed a new device to clip damaged blood vessels together neatly and quickly. It works like an office stapling machine.

If tests on Canadian patients prove successful, tantalum metal staples will replace the silk sutures that surgeons have traditionally used on blood vessels. Sewing them in place is a long process and sometimes a patient's life ebbs away on the operating table.

Drs. I. J. Vogelfanger and W. G. Beattie, two Ottawa surgeons, presented the idea to Canada's National Research council. The Council assigned its engineers to build the stapler.

G. J. Klein, head of the Council's engineering laboratory, said the device has been tested successfully in experimental operations on the aorta of animals—the major trunk blood vessel leading from the heart.

The stapler can be used on veins and arteries of all sizes—even some small vessels that would otherwise be damaged beyond repair in severe hand and foot injuries.

The device looks like two opposing pairs of pliers with round metal sleeves placed between their jaws. This is how it works:

After the blood flow is sealed off and the damaged section of the vessel removed, one end of the vessel is fed through one of the sleeves. The surgeon turns it inside out over the sleeve to form a cuff.

The other end of the vessel goes through the other sleeve and is rolled back to form another cuff.

Then the jaws of the pliers snap together, and the staples pop out of one of the sleeves and clinch the vessels together through the cuffs.

The sleeve holders are withdrawn. The sleeves — which now enclose the mended vessel like a ring around a finger —are split and removed, and the staples hold the vessel tightly together.

Now Facing 2 Hard Decisions

Problem of Tax Cut Is Coupled with Debt Coming Due Shortly

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury Secretary Anderson is facing two hard decisions with time running short:

Whether to support any tax cuts when caught between a recession and a rising federal deficit.

What to do about the 9½ billion dollars of debt coming due June 15 and the 16 billion coming due in August and September. Also he will need to raise billions more of new money as the deficit grows. Here, too, he is caught between the slump the government would like to end and a topheavy short term debt he would like to lengthen.

The tax cut decision is more up to Congress than to him although his views are being sought. The debt refunding problem involves the banks, business men and the host of communities that want to borrow money for such things as new schools.

Corporate demand for investment funds may be slackening, but any turn in the recession tide would be hampered if the government sops up too much of the funds now available.

Municipal borrowing has been rising this year, spurred both by need of financing civic improvements and by the greater availability of funds and the lower interest charges.

The Treasury problem is this: long term bonds appeal mostly to the big investors like life insurance companies and pension funds. But if it offers a large issue with a long time to run — something it is anxious to do to get off its neck the constant need of going into the money market as short term securities mature — it might be competing with the municipalities and be making it hard for business to find funds to float bonds when it's ready to expand again.

It might also knock down the price of existing bonds, increasing the yield and the cost of borrowing. This could prolong the slump, foes of the long term bonds contend.

If the Treasury emphasizes short term debt, largely attractive to banks, to redeem the 9½ billion dollars coming due, it could flood the market increasing the volume of money the banks have to lend (because these bonds are so easy to sell) and possibly set the stage of another found of inflation.

One thing seems sure. Federal deficits are rising and the Treasury is going to have to borrow, and the federal debt is going to rise — an inflationary thing in itself. The decision on how to borrow is coming fast.

Add either minced chives or chives salt to cottage cheese and serve with salad greens, tomatoes and cucumbers for a weight-watchers' main dish for lunch.

Surplus Food OKd For Welfare Cases

COLUMBUS (AP) — Surplus commodities will be made available to unemployed and low income families in Ohio previously ineligible for donated food.

Officials said county welfare directors can increase total budgets not to exceed 10 per cent to become eligible for donated foods in marginal cases.

Approximately 68,000 Ohioans in 17 counties now are receiving surplus food. Welfare officials said they could not estimate the number of marginal cases that would be added under the new program until applications were in from participating counties.

Now Facing 2 Hard Decisions

Problem of Tax Cut Is Coupled with Debt Coming Due Shortly

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Treasury Secretary Anderson is facing two hard decisions with time running short:

Whether to support any tax cuts when caught between a recession and a rising federal deficit.

What to do about the 9½ billion dollars of debt coming due June 15 and the 16 billion coming due in August and September. Also he will need to raise billions more of new money as the deficit grows. Here, too, he is caught between the slump the government would like to end and a topheavy short term debt he would like to lengthen.

The tax cut decision is more up to Congress than to him although his views are being sought. The debt refunding problem involves the banks, business men and the host of communities that want to borrow money for such things as new schools.

Corporate demand for investment funds may be slackening, but any turn in the recession tide would be hampered if the government sops up too much of the funds now available.

Municipal borrowing has been rising this year, spurred both by need of financing civic improvements and by the greater availability of funds and the lower interest charges.

The Treasury problem is this: long term bonds appeal mostly to the big investors like life insurance companies and pension funds. But if it offers a large issue with a long time to run — something it is anxious to do to get off its neck the constant need of going into the money market as short term securities mature — it might be competing with the municipalities and be making it hard for business to find funds to float bonds when it's ready to expand again.

It might also knock down the price of existing bonds, increasing the yield and the cost of borrowing. This could prolong the slump, foes of the long term bonds contend.

If the Treasury emphasizes short term debt, largely attractive to banks, to redeem the 9½ billion dollars coming due, it could flood the market increasing the volume of money the banks have to lend (because these bonds are so easy to sell) and possibly set the stage of another found of inflation.

One thing seems sure. Federal deficits are rising and the Treasury is going to have to borrow, and the federal debt is going to rise — an inflationary thing in itself. The decision on how to borrow is coming fast.

Add either minced chives or chives salt to cottage cheese and serve with salad greens, tomatoes and cucumbers for a weight-watchers' main dish for lunch.

Surplus Food OKd For Welfare Cases

COLUMBUS (AP) — Surplus commodities will be made available to unemployed and low income families in Ohio previously ineligible for donated food.

Officials said county welfare directors can increase total budgets not to exceed 10 per cent to become eligible for donated foods in marginal cases.

Approximately 68,000 Ohioans in 17 counties now are receiving surplus food. Welfare officials said they could not estimate the number of marginal cases that would be added under the new program until applications were in from participating counties.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Here is a letter from a bachelor, 27, who can't meet the right type of girl.

Are there any girls who still care about establishing a home, and not just a house with convenient household gadets? Are there still those who want to make a career of providing a "castle" for husband and children. By which I mean, providing the spiritual strength of the family; and by spiritual, I don't necessarily mean the religious side of life.

I am not searching for a glamour doll, but the type of girl who will make a joy of housework and family life.

I am a college graduate and a clerical worker. I am about six feet tall, of average looks, I suppose. I would like a wife of similar background (and of the same religious training), because of the companionship it would bring.

I own my own house and about 40 acres of woodland on which it is situated. I am very independent; in fact I have no dependents whatsoever; my closest living relatives are uncles and aunts.

I get very lonely in these woods. How can I meet the right girl? If you could give me the names and addresses of correspondence clubs I should appreciate it very much.

B.B.

DEAR B.B.: Here you are, age 27, a bachelor writing from the Deep South, incidentally; and you can't meet the right type of girl, you say. Well, why can't you? "A man is known by the company he keeps," a proverb tells us.

Are you making the requisite effort to help yourself? Or are you hoping, rather, that Heaven will drop a pleasant assortment of mate-seeking girls into your lonely path, so that you may pick-and-choose to suit your critical taste?

If you aren't meeting the right kind of girls, it must be that you are out of touch with conventional society—that you have no friends and see few persons; and aren't invited to parties, nor introduced around amongst "nice people" as an eligible bachelor.

He who would have friends must show himself friendly, you know; and what are you doing for yourself on that score?

As a clerical worker, you aren't exactly a hermit. You have some association with others, surely. And whether these workaday associates are older or younger, married or single, male or female, each might be a potential cupid on your behalf—if each became your friend, and really liked you.

When a co-worker likes or admires you, generally he (or she) finds some occasion to present you to somebody else — as a person worth knowing. Maybe the introduction is preceded by a build-up, as for example: "I know a great guy who works with me. You would find it a pleasure to meet him—," etc. Why aren't people doing this for you? Here is the $64-question, really.

Probably it is because you are noticeably more selfish, self-centered and aloof in your human dealings, than warm-hearted, sympathetic and outgoing. You are very independent, you say; but don't you mean isolated, actually —a person apart from groups and social ties.

It seems likely that you leave people cold because they feel the truth about you—namely, that you aren't interested in folks as such, for what they are in themselves; but only in what you can get from them, to feather your nest, or add to your bank account.

As for giving names and addresses of correspondence clubs (so-called), this column never deals in information of that sort. We disapprove the desperate risk. Persons have lost their lives as a result of trusting "sweethearts" found by mail.

O'Neill's Call Said 5 Months 'Late'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill's call for a special legislative session to extend jobless benefits to 39 weeks comes "at least five months late," his Democratic opponent for governor charged Monday night.

Michael V. DiSalle also said that since O'Neill had delayed this long, he now should wait a little longer until Congress determines what bill is passed on unemployment compensation benefits.

The former Toledo mayor met with Cleveland newsmen at a dinner. He opened the discussion by distributing reprints of a Feb. 15 speech in which he had proposed that the Legislature be called to consider expanding and supplementing unemployment compensation. DiSalle said the Legislature should have been asked to act on the matter in January.

DiSalle was asked whether, if he were governor, he would ask the special session to increase the maximum amount of the benefits as well as the period from the present 26 weeks. He would, he said, at least enough to compensate for the increase in the cost of living in the past year.

"But," he added, "I would not endanger passage of the legislation by being obstinate on the question of the increase."

The former federal price stabilization director indicated he agreed with O'Neill that if federal unemployment aid is voted by Congress in the form of available loans that must be repaid with interest, he would be opposed to borrowing.

"But," he continued, "how can you say what you want the Legislature to do until you know what Congress is going to do? Suppose Congress decides to make outright grants. If Ohio did not accept such grants, Ohioans would be paying for grants to other states but not receiving anything in return."

DiSalle also said O'Neill's decision to call the Legislature, announced while the governor was attending a National Governor's Conference in Miami Beach, was not made with too much thought.

"He was more interested in getting a big headline," DiSalle asserted.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidate said when the special session meets next month it should be empowered by the governor to act on two other matters in addition to those O'Neill has announced in his call.

One, DiSalle said, should be removal of the $65-a-month ceiling on old-age pensioners, and the other should be voting of appropriations for the increased relief load.

Ohio KofC Raps Work-Right Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Council of the Knights of Columbus has endorsed a statement by Roman Catholic bishops of Ohio opposing proposed anti-union shop legislatin.

State Secretary Anthny Brueneman Jr. declared the action was taken because "along with an individual's right to freedom there is also a need to accept responsibility in the joint enterprises (union membership) from which he derives benefits."

The delegates also expressed approval of all efforts to promote decent literature and specifically commended the work of Cincinnati's Committee for Decent Literature.

Prayer, Promise Given Nike Area

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP)—A citizens meeting called in the wake of the explosion of eight Nike missiles at a nearby installation heard both a prayer and a promise Monday night.

The prayer was for the 10 men who lost their lives in Thursday's disaster.

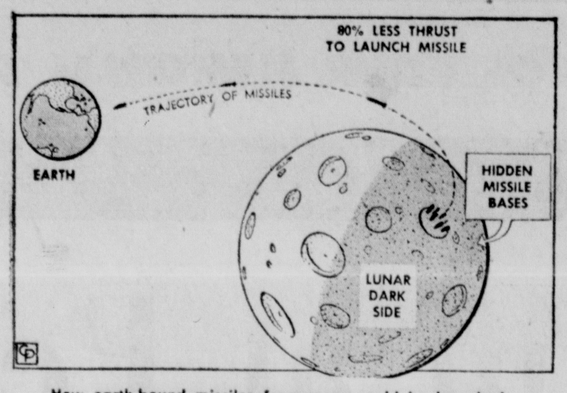

The promise came from the Army, which vowed to do all in its power to prevent a recurrence of the tragedy.

Army spokesmen told the 200 residents at the meeting that any future changes in he Nikes will be made with only one of the missiles above ground at a time.

Bigger Missiles in Orbit Means Race to Moon Is On

By REX STANLEY
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

"The nation first with a weapons base on the Moon will control the world." This isn't a wild theory, held only by scientists. Today, it's a cold truth to military leaders of the United States and Russia.

While the race goes on — to build missiles and to orbit larger and better satellites — the big prize is the Moon.

Both nations are well aware of it. The United States has announced it will try soon "to shoot the Moon." Certainly, Soviet scientists are now working furiously to get there first.

In the words of Brig. Gen. Homer A. Boushey, United States Air Force deputy director of research and development, the Moon is "high ground," a dominant position that commands the potential battlefield of space around the Earth.

The advantages for control of the world are so great, General Boushey says, that conquest might be a simple, bloodless surrender.

Watching the Earth from the Moon would be easy. Unrestricted by clouds or heat distortion, telescopes would bring clear, sharp close-ups of the Earth's surface. Since the Moon's gravity is only about one-fifth that of the Earth, moving heavy equipment to build weapons bases would be easier, quicker. Power to shoot missiles at the Earth could be 80 per cent less than Earth-fired retaliatory missles.

The biggest advantage of a Moon base is that it could be set up on the lunar dark side, never seen from the Earth. From there, missiles could be launched without warning, in a high curve over the Moon, to plunge to Earth with terrible speed and force.

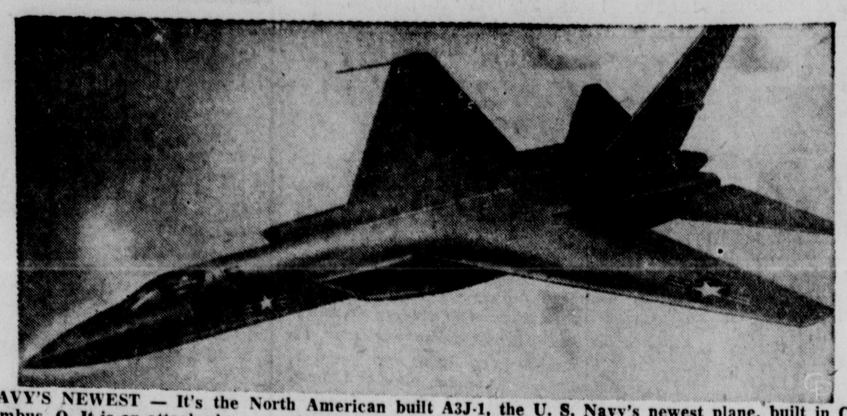

Getting on the Moon will be a neat trick of space navigation — leaving the Earth by just the right speed and course, to arrive in the Moon's orbit when it is there, with both spaceship and Moon traveling at the same speed.

The nation to do it will win the world.

O'Neill's Call Said 5 Months 'Late'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill's call for a special legislative session to extend jobless benefits to 39 weeks comes "at least five months late," his Democratic opponent for governor charged Monday night.

Michael V. DiSalle also said that since O'Neill had delayed this long, he now should wait a little longer until Congress determines what bill is passed on unemployment compensation benefits.

The former Toledo mayor met with Cleveland newsmen at a dinner. He opened the discussion by distributing reprints of a Feb. 15 speech in which he had proposed that the Legislature be called to consider expanding and supplementing unemployment compensation. DiSalle said the Legislature should have been asked to act on the matter in January.

DiSalle was asked whether, if he were governor, he would ask the special session to increase the maximum amount of the benefits as well as the period from the present 26 weeks. He would, he said, at least enough to compensate for the increase in the cost of living in the past year.

"But," he added, "I would not endanger passage of the legislation by being obstinate on the question of the increase."

The former federal price stabilization director indicated he agreed with O'Neill that if federal unemployment aid is voted by Congress in the form of available loans that must be repaid with interest, he would be opposed to borrowing.

"But," he continued, "how can you say what you want the Legislature to do until you know what Congress is going to do? Suppose Congress decides to make outright grants. If Ohio did not accept such grants, Ohioans would be paying for grants to other states but not receiving anything in return."

DiSalle also said O'Neill's decision to call the Legislature, announced while the governor was attending a National Governor's Conference in Miami Beach, was not made with too much thought.

"He was more interested in getting a big headline," DiSalle asserted.

The Democratic gubernatorial candidate said when the special session meets next month it should be empowered by the governor to act on two other matters in addition to those O'Neill has announced in his call.

One, DiSalle said, should be removal of the $65-a-month ceiling on old-age pensioners, and the other should be voting of appropriations for the increased relief load.

Ohio KofC Raps Work-Right Plan

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Council of the Knights of Columbus has endorsed a statement by Roman Catholic bishops of Ohio opposing proposed anti-union shop legislatin.

State Secretary Anthny Bruneeman Jr. declared the action was taken because "along with an individual's right to freedom there is also a need to accept responsibility in the joint enterprises (unios membership) from which he derives benefits."

The delegates also expressed approval of all efforts to promote decent literature and specifically commended the work of Cincinnati's Committee for Decent Literature.

Prayer, Promise Given Nike Area

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (AP)—A citizens meeting called in the wake of the explosion of eight Nike missiles at a nearby installation heard both a prayer and a promise Monday night.

The prayer was for the 10 men who lost their lives in Thursday's disaster.

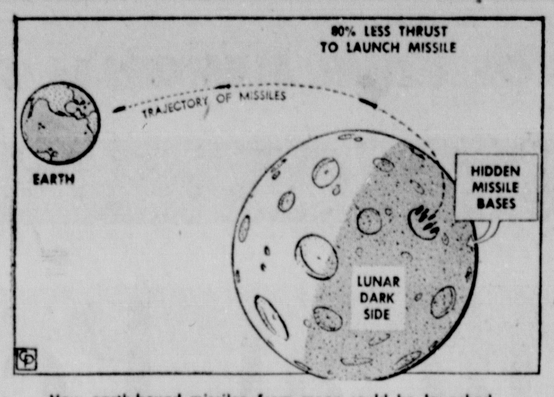

The promise came from the Army, which vowed to do all in its power to prevent a recurrence of the tragedy.

Army spokesmen told the 200 residents at the meeting that any future changes in he Nikes will be made with only one of the missiles above ground at a time.

How earth-bound missiles from moon could be launched.

Bigger Missiles in Orbit Means Race to Moon Is On

Reporter Takes Jet Flight High Into Night Skies

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

LORING AIR FORCE BASE, Maine (AP)—A 5,000-mile nighttime jaunt eight miles above the earth is routine for the men flying the B52 intercontinental bomber—but a new thrill for an outsider.

Lifting some of the secrecy from this giant of the jets, the Air Force for the first time has permitted a newsman to go along on a B52 training mission.

This one was a 10-hour simulated nuclear bombing run which included radar jamming and refueling.

Ranging a zigzag, roundabout course of 5,000 miles or more, 12 B52s rained make-believe atomic death on successive bombing targets in Richmond, Va., St. Louis, Mo., and St. Paul, Minn.

Launched from this northern Maine base at 10-minute intervals, the big eight-jet Boeing bombers attacked from altitudes of 41,000 to 43,000 feet. Electronic scoring equipment on the ground racked up the devastating accuracy that has become standard with B52s of the Strategic Air Command.

The mission also included ECM runs—stories involving the use of electronic countermeasures to jam the enemy's radar—against Air Defense Command radar stations near Burlington, Vt., Williamsport Pa., and Kirksville, Mo.

There was a planned attempt by a radar-jamming simulator on the ground at St. Louis to knock out the radar aids by which the B52s navigated their way through darkness toward their targets.

The men aboard the B52s matched their wits against this simulator. When they could no longer identify on their radar scopes the landmarks along their course, the B52 operators switched in other frequencies.

In spite of this interference they worked their way in and hit their targets.

Already in production for delivery later this year is an improved version, the B52G. This can carry in addition to bombs the supersonic, nuclear - armed Hound Dog guided missile which can be fired while still hundreds of miles from the target.

Newsmen here and at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., also were permitted for the first time to watched "cocked" B52s—that is, bombers fully loaded with atomic weapons and fueled and ready for action — take part in practice alerts.

The average time for these cocked bombers, from the instant of the alarm until all eight engines were roaring and ready for taxiing, was eight minutes.

Commented Maj. Gen. Walter C. Sweeney Jr., commander of the 8th Air Force: "These men have a fantastic responsibility. I remember back in 1948, when we wrote the first war plans, we thought in terms of retaliation within six days of an enemy attack.

"Then we cut it down to hours. Now we can be off in 15 minutes—and over the target a very few hours later."

Today's Kids Taking Up Chemistry with a Bang!

By JERRY KLEIN
Central Press Association
Correspondent

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — If a chemistry set was among the items that came down your chimney on Christmas morning, stand by! Very soon now, strange things are liable to start happening around your house.

For America's young scientists show small interest in following the safe-and-sure formulas recommended by the makers of model chemistry sets. Oh, no, they've got to strike out on their own and "blaze" new trails.

Take the little boy in Bedford, Ind., for example. He told of discovering an interesting new chemical compound consisting of: "Three measures of potassium nitrate, two measures of sulphur and one measure of powdered charcoal."

"Mix together and light with a match," he directed. "Then watch the reaction." You do get quite a reaction by following these directions, actually, for the boy's mixture is simple gunpowder.

A 16-year-old from Carlsbad, N. M., reported the invention of a similarly explosive mixture. What's more, this lad told how he was grinding away at the mixture with a mortar and pestle!

Such reports as these constantly are addressed to the A. C. Gilbert company, a toy manufacturer which holds annual contests for small-fry scientists.

"There may be a few things kids can't do with their chemistry sets," the firm declares, "but there's little they're not working on — from turning base metals into gold, to a cure for the common cold and the occurrence of red-eye in fruit flies."

A $100 first prize went to a Washington, D. C., youth who used his chemistry set to study the blood plasma of rabbits. In the letter explaining his project, this lad explained, "This work has taken a full year — due to unco-operative rabbits."

A New Jersey youngster developed a double-barreled chemical. "As I mentioned," he wrote the company, "it will eat the back off dominoes, but I didn't mention that it can put me to sleep if I want to sleep."

From an 8-year-old in Saigonville, Tex., came this missive: "I have always been interested in bombs. I was working on a firecracker day before yesterday. I thought it was a firecracker. But it wasn't. When I lit it, it didn't blow up, it shot fire . . . I ask my cuzin what it was. He said it was a firebomb."

A boy in Baltimore wrote the firm a report on his development of an explosive mixture of gunpowder and magnesium. As the concluding step in the experiment, however, he said, "Light it with a safety match."

From Hancock, Mich., a 10-year-oll reported, "I have discovered a fire distinguisher."

Caution!—a young chemistry experimenter at work!

Another well-intentioned girl from Jeannette, Pa., won $10 for finding a way to clean out test tubes besmudged by sulphur. Her method requires two days to clean a five-cent test tube, but she doesn't say how to clean the 15-cent glass into which the sulphur is emptied!

However, as the 14-year-old contest winner from San Francisco remarked, "It was not the money that was the best part, but the fact that I accomplished something. . . although it was not much."

So you can expect things to start cracking around your house any time, now, but don't blame Junior. A chemistry set is a challenge to his scientific spirit and in the age of sputniks, America needs young scientists more desperately than ever before!

Kentuckian Gets Ohio Pen Sentence

IRONTON (AP)—An Ashland, Ky., man has been sentenced to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary. William G. Cline, 20, pleaded guilty at his first-degree manslaughter trial Monday.

Cline was charged in the fatal beating of Charles M. Thornton, 26, of Raceland, Ky., during an Ironton tavern brawl earlier this month. His attorney convinced him to plead guilty after the prosecution introduced a statement signed by Cline admiting he knocked Thornton down in a fight.

Lowell Thomas About Ready For His 15,000th Broadcast

NEW YORK (AP) — A hardy voyageur has just stumbled out of the archival jungle of the Lowell Thomas office with word that by June 3 the CBS radio reporter will have made his 15,000th broadcast.

While programs come and go, die and are revived, switch times and change their formats, Lowell Thomas and the News has had the longest continuous run of any news program in radio and is still going strong. Its position in the broadcast schedule, never has varied since June 1932.

It's safe to say that Thomas has been heard more frequently by more Americans in the last three decades than any other man. He still makes two broadcasts a night his second being beamed to the West Coast. Besides his role on radio he has been widely heard as a lecturer and as narrator for Cinerama, dozens of short films and for 17 years as the voice of Fox Movietone news.

It's equally safe to say that he has broadcast from more unusual and obscure places than any commentator: from a plane circling the Empire State Building, in the first broadcast from a helicopter, a bobsled, a—— you name it. In the course of these broadcasts Thomas estimates he has traveled five million miles by every conceivable means of transportation.

Thomas was well established as a writer and lecturer when he first faced a microphone in 1930 as the replacement of Floyd Gibbons, last but not least of the "I was there, myself, in person" type of foreign correspondent.

News broadcasting in 1930 was largely unexplored territory. Gibbons had been the only commentator on the air and there were widely divergent notions as to just how it should be done.

Thomas's first broadcast followed a nine-hour "how it should be done" session. Then Thomas went on the air and broadcast in his own way — the way he's been doing it ever since from just about everywhere, including Lhasa, the forbidden city of Tibet.

Asked for a list of the most memorable broadcasts during his years in radio, he names none of his own. Rather, he cites these: Churchill's famous "Blood, Sweat and Tears" speech; President Roosevelt's Declaration of War message to Congress; MacArthur's "I Shall Return" speech; Ed Murrow's "Orchestrated Hell" broadcast on the bombing of Berlin; Charles Collingwood's description of the Nazi surrender; President Eisenhower's first acceptance speech in Chicago; Alben Barkley's last speech before his death; Dr. Jonas Salk's radio announcement of his polio vaccine; Doug Edwards' description of the sinking of the Andrea Doria; Moscow radio's announcement of the first earth satellite.

Youth Arrested In Arrow Shoot

COLUMBUS (AP)—An 18-year-old youth is the first person to be charged under a new city ordinance against shooting arrows. It is the result of a steel-point arrow hitting a 5-year-old boy in the eye Monday.

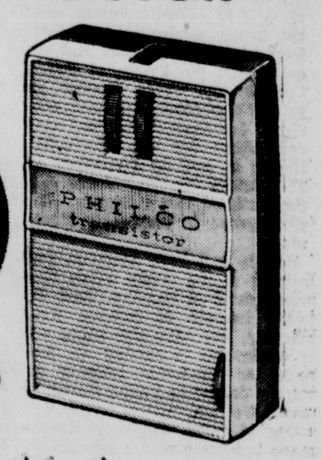

The injured boy, Roger Counts, has undergone surgery in an effort to save his sight in that eye.

Held in city prison under $25 bond is Bruce D. Browne who, police said, was shooting arrows at a box in a back yard. They said one glanced off the box and into the Counts yard, where the youngster was lying on the ground.

This is Texas Eastern...

Exploring today for tomorrow's reserves

Texas Eastern not only transports natural gas and petroleum products from producing areas to consumers, but is also active in the exploration for and production of crude oil and natural gas.

The company's exploration and production activities began in 1950 along the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast. Since that time efforts have steadily expanded until today, exploration and production by Texas Eastern is being carried on in Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Alabama, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Kansas.

A significant advance in exploration and production by the company came during 1957 with acquisition of La Gloria Oil and Gas Company. This company is a major oil and gas producer and holds extensive leases covering areas of developed and potential oil and gas production. By the end of 1957, Texas Eastern's combined holdings totaled more than 375,000 acres of developed and undeveloped oil and gas producing properties.

Combined production of Texas Eastern and La Gloria during 1957 totaled 3,091,727 barrels of crude oil and products and 35 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas Eastern is proud that it not only supplies petroleum products and natural gas to consumers via its pipelines, but is playing a significant part in uncovering new reserves of oil and gas faster than they are consumed by home and industry.

"There may be a few things kids can't do with their chemistry sets," the firm declares, "but there's little they're not working on — from turning base metals into gold, to a cure for the common cold and the occurrence of red-eye in fruit flies."

A $100 first prize went to a Washington, D. C., youth who used his chemistry set to study the blood plasma of rabbits. In the letter explaining his project, this lad explained, "This work has taken a full year — due to unco-operative rabbits."

A New Jersey youngster developed a double-barreled chemical. "As I mentioned," he wrote the company, "it will eat the back off dominoes, but I didn't mention that it can put me to sleep if I want to sleep."

From an 8-year-old in Saigonville, Tex., came this missive: "I have always been interested in bombs. I was working on a firecracker day before yesterday. I thought it was a firecracker. But it wasn't. When I lit it, it didn't blow up, it shot fire . . . I ask my cuzin what it was. He said it was a firebomb."

A boy in Baltimore wrote the firm a report on his development of an explosive mixture of gunpowder and magnesium. As the concluding step in the experiment, however, he said, "Light it with a safety match."

From Hancock, Mich., a 10-year-oll reported, "I have discovered a fire distinguisher."

Another well-intentioned girl from Jeannette, Pa., won $10 for finding a way to clean out test tubes besmudged by sulphur. Her method requires two days to clean a five-cent test tube, but she doesn't say how to clean the 15-cent glass into which the sulphur is emptied!

However, as the 14-year-old contest winner from San Francisco remarked, "It was not the money that was the best part, but the fact that I accomplished something. . . although it was not much."

So you can expect things to start cracking around your house any time now, but don't blame Junior. A chemistry set is a challenge to his scientific spirit and in the age of sputniks, America needs young scientists more desperately than ever before!

Caution!—a young chemistry experimenter at work!

Kentuckian Gets Ohio Pen Sentence

IRONTON (AP)—An Ashland, Ky., man has been sentenced to 1-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary. William G. Cline, 20, pleaded guilty at his first-degree manslaughter trial Monday.

Cline was charged in the fatal beating of Charles M. Thornton, 26, of Raceland, Ky., during an Ironton tavern brawl earlier this month. His attorney convinced him to plead guilty after the prosecution introduced a statement signed by Cline admiting he knocked Thornton down in a fight.

Lowell Thomas About Ready For His 15,000th Broadcast

NEW YORK (AP) — A hardy voyageur has just stumbled out of the archival jungle of the Lowell Thomas office with word that by June 3 the CBS radio reporter will have made his 15,000th broadcast.

While programs come and go, die and are revived, switch times and change their formats, Lowell Thomas and the News has had the longest continuous run of any news program in radio and is still going strong. Its position in the broadcast schedule, never has varied since June 1932.

It's safe to say that Thomas has been heard more frequently by more Americans in the last three decades than any other man. He still makes two broadcasts a night his second being beamed to the West Coast. Besides his role on radio he has been widely heard as a lecturer and as narrator for Cinerama, dozens of short films and for 17 years as the voice of Fox Movietone news.

It's equally safe to say that he has broadcast from more unusual and obscure places than any commentator: from a plane circling the Empire State Building, in the first broadcast from a helicopter, a bobsled, a— you name it. In the course of these broadcasts Thomas estimates he has traveled five million miles by every conceivable means of transportation.

Thomas was well established as a writer and lecturer when he first faced a microphone in 1930 as the replacement of Floyd Gibbons, last but not least of the "I was there, myself, in person" type of foreign correspondent.

News broadcasting in 1930 was largely unexplored territory. Gibbons had been the only commentator on the air and there were widely divergent notions as to just how it should be done.

Thomas's first broadcast followed a nine-hour "how it should be done" session. Then Thomas went on the air and broadcast in his own way — the way he's been doing it ever since from just about everywhere, including Lhasa, the forbidden city of Tibet.

Asked for a list of the most memorable broadcasts during his years in radio, he names none of his own. Rather, he cites these: Churchill's famous "Blood, Sweat and Tears" speech; President Roosevelt's Declaration of War message to Congress; MacArthur's "I Shall Return" speech; Ed Murrow's "Orchestrated Hell" broadcast on the bombing of Berlin; Charles Collingwood's description of the Nazi surrender; President Eisenhower's first acceptance speech in Chicago; Alben Barkley's last speech before his death; Dr. Jonas Salk's radio announcement of his polio vaccine; Doug Edwards' description of the sinking of the Andrea Doria; Moscow radio's announcement of the first earth satellite.

Youth Arrested In Arrow Shoot

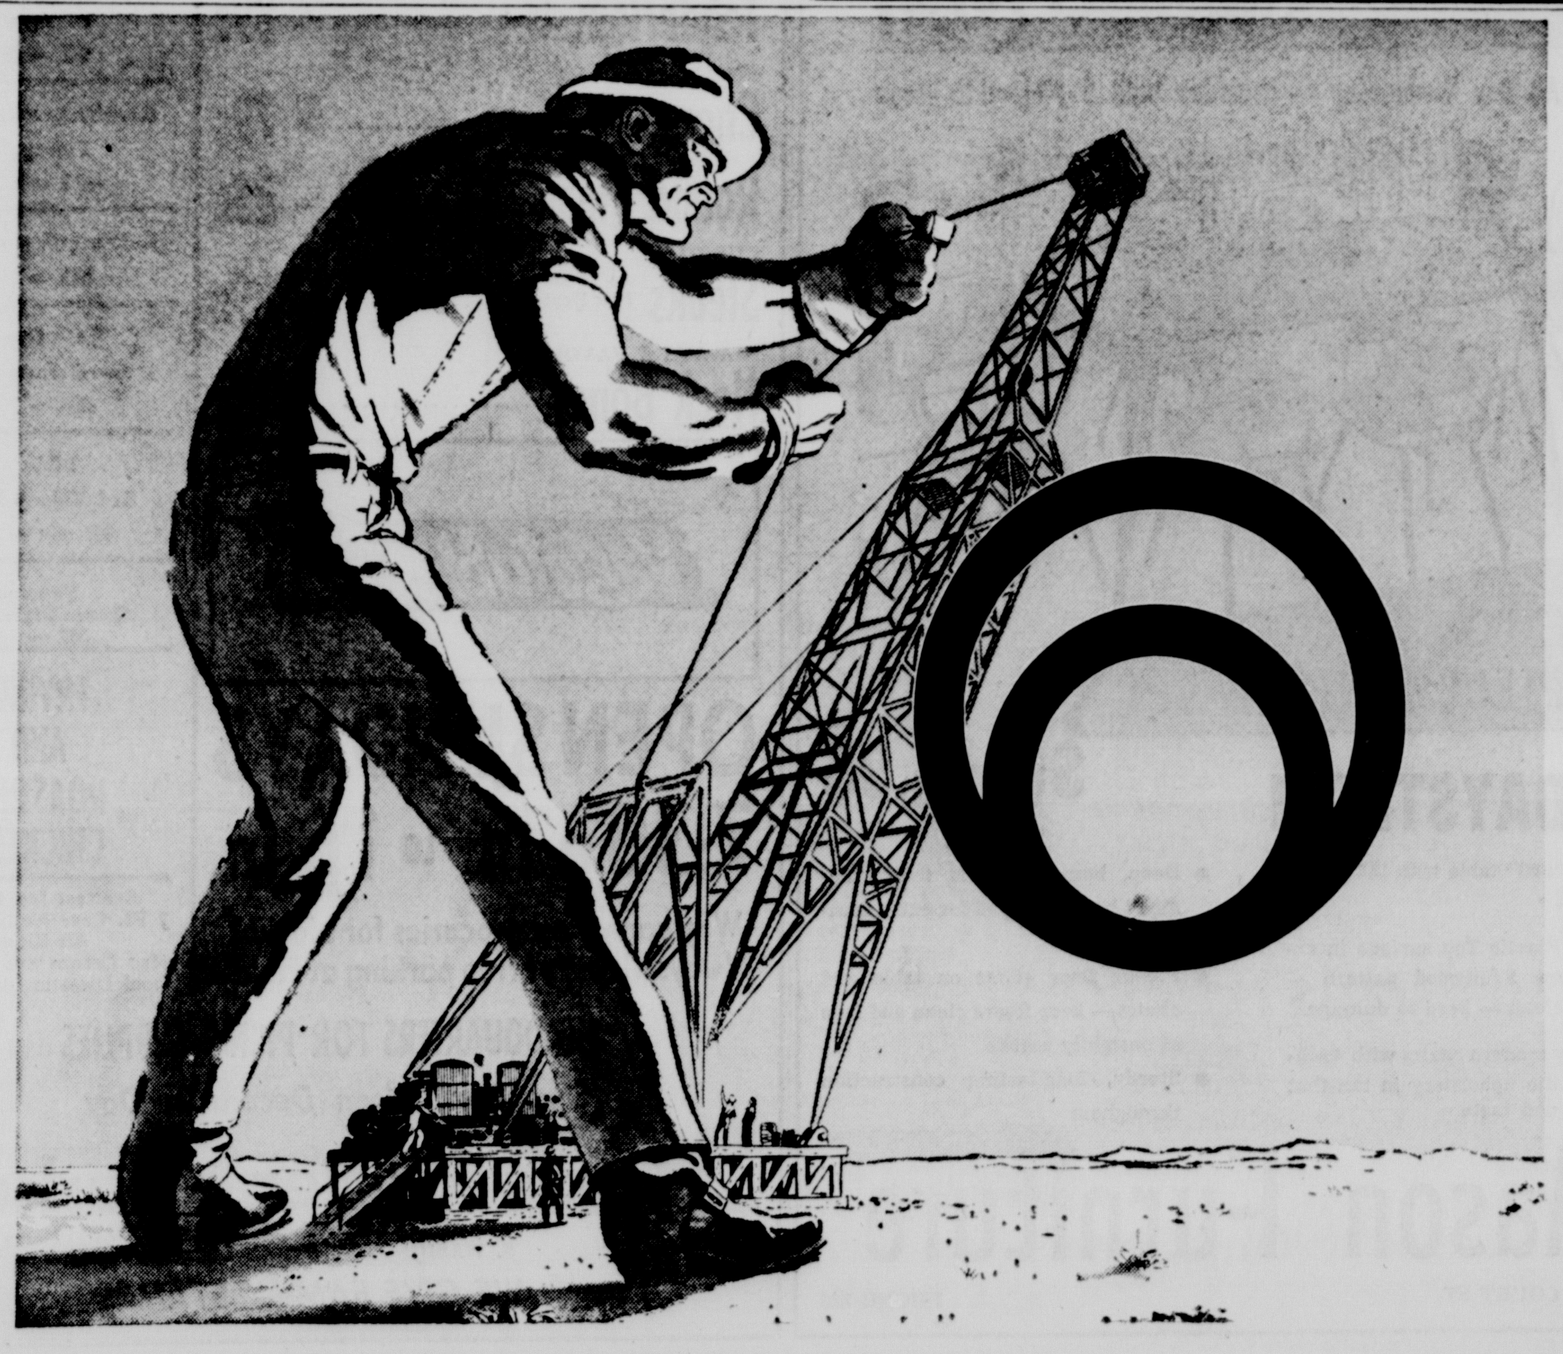

COLUMBUS (AP)—An 18-year-old youth is the first person to be charged under a new city ordinance against shooting arrows. It is the result of a steel-point arrow hitting a 5-year-old boy in the eye Monday.

The injured boy, Roger Counts, has undergone surgery in an effort to save his sight in that eye.

Held in city prison under $25 bond is Bruce D. Browne who, police said, was shooting arrows at a box in a back yard. They said one glanced off the box and into the Counts yard, where the youngster was lying on the ground.

This is Texas Eastern...

Exploring today for tomorrow's reserves

Texas Eastern not only transports natural gas and petroleum products from producing areas to consumers, but is also active in the exploration for and production of crude oil and natural gas.

The company's exploration and production activities began in 1950 along the Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast. Since that time efforts have steadily expanded until today, exploration and production by Texas Eastern is being carried on in Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Alabama, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Kansas.

A significant advance in exploration and production by the company came during 1957 with acquisition of La Gloria Oil and Gas Company. This company is a major oil and gas producer and holds extensive leases covering areas of developed and potential oil and gas production. By the end of 1957, Texas Eastern's combined holdings totaled more than 375,000 acres of developed and undeveloped oil and gas producing properties.

Combined production of Texas Eastern and La Gloria during 1957 totaled 3,091,727 barrels of crude oil and products and 35 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Texas Eastern is proud that it not only supplies petroleum products and natural gas to consumers via its pipelines, but is playing a significant part in uncovering new reserves of oil and gas faster than they are consumed by home and industry.

ROSALIE WHEELER

A record of outstanding achievement, though orphaned at 4, marks the school career of Roselie Wheeler, Ashville today declared winner of the Circleville Junior Woman's Club's scholarship contest.

Rosalie, who ranks fifth in her class of 32 students, has in addition to her academic work, participated in instrumental and vocal music, the Prince of Peace Contest two years, served as president of Student Council, editor of the annual staff and student editor for The Circleville Herald as well as a member of The Future Teachers Assn. and the National Honor Society. She participated in the county track meet.

Rosalie has been accepted for training at the White Cross Hospital School of Nursing. Torn between interest in nursing and teaching, she says she hopes after graduation in nursing to continue her academic training toward a degree in Public Health or Social Welfare.

One of seven children, Rosalie made her home with a grandmother for several years, but now lives with a brother, John, and his family. All members of the family have made outstanding scholastic records. Brother James is a student in engineering at Ohio State and John, with whom Rosalie lives, is taking some courses at OSU while working full time. Another brother, Ervin, ranked in the top 25 per cent in the county in the eighth grade tests recently.

South Pole Call Heard Clearly

Cleveland Scientist Reports 'Back Home'

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Rev. Douglas A. Pearl picked up the telephone receiver in his study at John Carroll University Monday.

"This is Father Brikenhauer calling from the South Pole," he was told. "We are still snowed in, the winds are quite serious, and temperatures are between 20 and 30 degrees below zero," the Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer reported.

The John Carroll seismologist is one of 27 men isolated in Wilkes Station, a barren waste of snow in Vinvennes Bay where, he said, the sun rises at 10 a.m. and sets five hours later.

Father Birkenhauer sailed for Antarctica Nov. 22 aboard a Navy attack transport to take part in the U. S. scientific program of the International Geophysical Year.

His telephone call began as a general shortwave broadcast which was picked up by an amateur radio operator in Ypsilanti, Mich.

"The radio ham put it through to us," Father Pearl explained. "The call came through quite clearly. We chatted for about 15 minutes."

Father Birkenhauer is taking seismographic soundings in the Antarctic to determine whether the mass of ice and snow is one continent or two.

"He was very hopeful about accomplishing his mission soon," Father Pearl said.

Among the hazards, Father Birkenhauer related, were winds 100 miles an hour or more and four-foot emperor penguins which he said attack any two-legged competitor for snowy space.

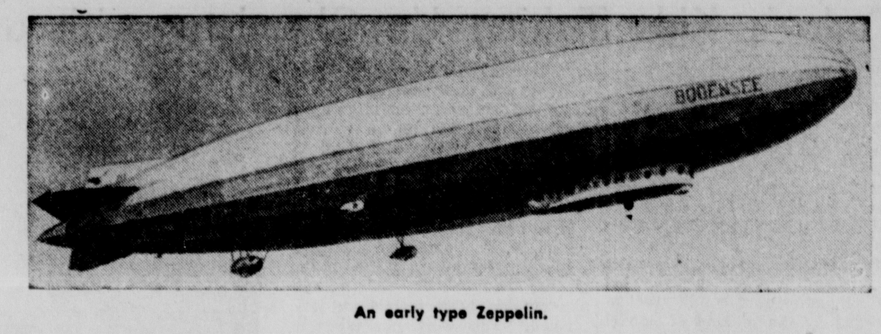

Father Birkenhauer also told Father Pearl a John Carroll University pennant now is flapping in the icy winds above the snowed-in hut in the desolate Antarctic region.

Parents Facing Query About Boy

PORTSMOUTH (AP) — A couple from nearby Sciotoville must appear in Scioto County Juvenile Court here today to explain their boy's reluctance to tell authorities his real name.

The boy, identified Sunday as David Michael Allen, 10, was taken to the Juvenile Center in Columbus May 18. A motorist found him hitchhiking barefoot on U. S. 23 between Circleville and Columbus.

For a week, he insisted he was Ronald Gregory, 12. He said he was running away from an uncle here to join his parents in Columbus. But Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brisden (Brisden is the boy's stepfather) call him their son.

Zeppelins Coming Back

By DARBY HILL
Written Especially for Central Press and This Newspaper

The great silver ships of the skyways that first thrilled and awed mankind a half century ago are soon to return, sailing the oceans of the air once again.

Announcement has come from Frankfurt, West Germany, that plans are past the blueprint stage for construction of a super-dirgible of 200-passenger capacity, a giant airship that will cruise the skies at 100 miles per hour.

Max Pruss, German aeronautic expert who skippered the two famous pre-World War II Zeppelins—the Graf Hindenburg and the Graf Zeppelin—reports that the West German Zeppelin foundation has ample funds to build and launch the mammoth dirigible.

And that's not all. According to Pruss, the United States is working on plans for potential atomic-powered Zeppelins!

It would be most fitting if the first flight of the great silver cigar-shaped airships should occur within the next several years for this would coincide with the 100th anniversary of an event which made the original Zeppelins possible.

Back in the early 1860s, during the American Civil war, a young German army officer and engineer came to the United States to observe the latest thing in weapons and tactics being put into use in what up to that time was the greatest conflict in military history.

He was Ferdinand Graf (or Count) von Zeppelin, then in his mid-twenties. He gained the permission of Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant to pursue his military studies in the Federal Army's lines.

What fascinated young Zeppelin the most was the use of the Union forces of captive balloons to scout enemy activities. He went aloft several times and became an ardent advocate of this new and revolutionary method of spying on enemy action.

Zeppelin returned to Germany full of dreams of the potentialities of balloons in future earfare. When the Franco-Prussian war broke out he fought so gallantly he rose quickly to the rank of major-general. During the siege of Paris, the French forces made considerable use of balloons, convincing Zeppelin more than ever that the great weapon of the future would be a military airship.

Zeppelin now devoted most of his spare time trying to devise a motor-propelled balloon of rigid construction (a true dirigible) and in trying to convince fellow officers and the high command of an airship's military importance.

This was too much for the hidebound conservatives of the German general staff, whose faith lay solely in heavy artillery, masses of infantry and swift platoons of cavalry and so, in 1890, Zeppelin was dismissed from the service.

This, however, failed to daunt Zeppelin's spirit. He continued to experiment together with a brother, Eberhard, a brilliant engineer. He not only sank his own fortune into the enterprise but raised a fund of a million marks to bring his airship plans to fruition.

A lesser man would have been discouraged when, in 1897, the first actual dirigible beat him into the skies. This was the Schwartz airship, an aluminum-hulled craft which was gasoline-propelled.

The Zeppelin experiments continued, however, and were finally crowned with success in 1900 when Count Ferdinand sent aloft his first dirigible. It was a huge cigar-shaped aircraft, 38 feet in diameter and 420 feet long. Two external cars were suspended from the hull, each car being equipped with an engine which operated two propellors.

However, this craft and the next two built by Zeppelin were plagued by mishaps but by 1906 Count Ferdinand had won the confidence of the government and the German people. In 1910 he put the Deutschland, a greatly improved ship into air transport service and followed it the next year with the Schwaben, which carried up to 24 passengers.

By 1913 Zeppelin had 10 of his huge airships in passenger and freight service. Then came World War I and the aging airship enthusiast at last had his opportunity to show what a powerful weapon his dirigible might be. He was put in complete charge of the German army's aeronautics.

Early in the war the Zeppelins did yoeman duty for the kaiser and the German general staff. They were highly effective on patrol of the embattled North sea and were successful in bringing the war to the home fronts of enemy lands.

Both London and Paris as well as many other English and French cities were bombed by the big airships. At first, defense against the huge craft was rather ineffectual. However, it improved rapidly and anti-aircraft fire and Allied pursuit planes soon were taking an increased toll of the great airships

In all, the Germans built and launched 88 Zeppelins during the war but toward the end of that conflict the giant silver ships had all but disappeared from the European air frontier. The incendiary bullet, deadly to the dirigibles inflated with highly inflammable hydrogen gas, sounded the death knell of the fighting Zeppelins.

With the armistice some of the surviving Zeppelins became the property of Germany's conquerors but almost without exception these, too, fell victim to disaster. Count von Zeppelin himself did not survive the war, dying in 1917.

The old count's aeronautical heirs, famous among them being brilliant Hugo Eckner, briefly revived his dream of international and intercontinental Zeppelin passenger and freight service with such super airships as the Graf Zeppelin and the Graf Hindenburg, the latter being destroyed when it caught fire while attempting to land at Lakehurst, N. J.

With the outbreak of World War II the story of the Zeppelins came to a temporary end—many airmen thought it was forever. Now, however, the Germans are busy again—this time with peaceable plans of sending their great silver ships aloft to sail again the great oceans of the sky.

To Avoid Boredom, Stay Young--Keep Yourself Busy

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The only way to avoid boredom and stay young is to keep busy and interested in many things, the more the better, says Margaret Rudkin, one of the country's best-known and most successful women executives.

When her doctor recently ordered her to slow down, Mrs. Rudkin was appalled.

"How can I?" she demanded. "I'm not geared to slow motion. I can't just stop and be a vegetable. I've got to have something to do!"

Both her doctor and her husband were firm, however, so Mrs. Rudkin agreed to take more time away from the office and spend more time at her Pepperidge Farm home near Norwalk, Conn., where she baked the original loaf of bread which launched an international business.

Staying at home didn't mean doing nothing, however. The energetic Mrs. Rudkin at once plunged into a number of divers - enterprises, including the purchase and renovation of a 17th Century home in Ireland and the study and enlargement of her collection of rare old cookbooks.

"Nobody's going to retire me to a rocking chair and shawl," says she. "They'll have to tie me down first. That sort of thing may have been all right for Whisler's mother, but not for Maggie Rudkin."

The house in Ireland is a huge, eight-bedroom structure built in 1640 and situated in Bagenalstown, County Carlow, about 70 miles south of Dublin. Mrs. Rudkin has proceeded with a complete restoration job, including central heating, with the aid of a Dublin architect. This comes under the head of "relaxation."

So do her latest hobbies of color photography and trout fishing.

"We love our Irish home," says she. "It's true what the Irish say—the grass is greener there and the flowers are bigger. The pace of life is much slower, too, in Ireland—that's the only thing that bothers me—I have to keep busy."

Mrs. Rudkin's greatest pride at the moment is a rare cookbook recently presented to her by her employes. It is the oldest dated edition of a cookbook in the world, she says proudly, having been printed in 1475, only 20 years after the world's first printed book, the famous Gutenberg Bible. It was written in Latin by an Italian scholar.

It was a huge cigar-shaped aircraft, 38 feet in diameter and 420 feet long. Two external cars were suspended from the hull, each car being equipped with an engine which operated two propellors.

However, this craft and the next two built by Zeppelin were plagued by mishaps but by 1906 Count Ferdinand had won the confidence of the government and the German people. In 1910 he put the Deutschland, a greatly improved ship into air transport service and followed it the next year with the Schwaben, which carried up to 24 passengers.

By 1913 Zeppelin had 10 of his huge airships in passenger and freight service. Then came World War I and the aging airship enthusiast at last had his opportunity to show what a powerful weapon his dirigible might be. He was put in complete charge of the German army's aeronautics.

Early in the war the Zeppelins did yoeman duty for the kaiser and the German general staff. They were highly effective on patrol of the embattled North sea and were successful in bringing the war to the home fronts of enemy lands.

Both London and Paris as well as many other English and French cities were bombed by the big airships. At first, defense against the huge craft was rather ineffectual. However, it improved rapidly and anti-aircraft fire and Allied pursuit planes soon were taking an increased toll of the great airships

In all, the Germans built and launched 88 Zeppelins during the war but toward the end of that conflict the giant silver ships had all but disappeared from the European air frontier. The incendiary bullet, deadly to the dirigibles inflated with highly inflammable hydrogen gas, sounded the death knell of the fighting Zeppelins.

With the armistice some of the surviving Zeppelins became the property of Germany's conquerors but almost without exception these, too, fell victim to disaster. Count von Zeppelin himself did not survive the war, dying in 1917.

The old count's aeronautical heirs, famous among them being brilliant Hugo Eckner, briefly revived his dream of international and intercontinental Zeppelin passenger and freight service with such super airships as the Graf Zeppelin and the Graf Hindenburg, the latter being destroyed when it caught fire while attempting to land at Lakehurst, N. J.

With the outbreak of World War II the story of the Zeppelins came to a temporary end—many airmen thought it was forever. Now, however, the Germans are busy again—this time with peaceable plans of sending their great silver ships aloft to sail again the great oceans of the sky.

To Avoid Boredom, Stay Young--Keep Yourself Busy

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The only way to avoid boredom and stay young is to keep busy and interested in many things, the more the better, says Margaret Rudkin, one of the country's best-known and most successful women executives.

When her doctor recently ordered her to slow down, Mrs. Rudkin was appalled.

"How can I?" she demanded. "I'm not geared to slow motion. I can't just stop and be a vegetable. I've got to have something to do!"

Both her doctor and her husband were firm, however, so Mrs. Rudkin agreed to take more time away from the office and spend more time at her Pepperidge Farm home near Norwalk, Conn., where she baked the original loaf of bread which launched an international business.

Staying at home didn't mean doing nothing, however. The energetic Mrs. Rudkin at once plunged into a number of divers - enterprises, including the purchase and renovation of a 17th Century home in Ireland and the study and enlargement of her collection of rare old cookbooks.

"Nobody's going to retire me to a rocking chair and shawl," says she. "They'll have to tie me down first. That sort of thing may have been all right for Whisler's mother, but not for Maggie Rudkin."

The house in Ireland is a huge, eight-bedroom structure built in 1640 and situated in Bagenalstown, County Carlow, about 70 miles south of Dublin. Mrs. Rudkin has proceeded with a complete restoration job, including central heating, with the aid of a Dublin architect. This comes under the head of "relaxation."

So do her latest hobbies of color photography and trout fishing.

"We love our Irish home," says she. "It's true what the Irish say—the grass is greener there and the flowers are bigger. The pace of life is much slower, too, in Ireland—that's the only thing that bothers me—I have to keep busy."

Mrs. Rudkin's greatest pride at the moment is a rare cookbook recently presented to her by her employes. It is the oldest dated edition of a cookbook in the world, she says proudly, having been printed in 1475, only 20 years after the world's first printed book, the famous Gutenberg Bible. It was written in Latin by an Italian scholar.

Tale of Casey And 7 Dwarfs Set To Resume

Yankees Didn't Gain, But Possibly Only Because of No Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The tale of Casey and the Seven Dwarfs, sometimes known as the American League pennant race, gets back to the old grind tonight after a refreshing change of pace Monday, when the New York Yankees failed to fatten their first place bulge.

They couldn't. Neither the Yanks nor second-place Boston were scheduled. Only one game was in the books, and that one gave Kansas City a 5-4, 10-inning victory over Baltimore on relief pitcher Murry Dickson's home run.

The Yankees take an unprecedented pre-Memorial Day lead of nine games into Kansas City tonight, with unbeaten Bob Turley looking for his eighth victory.

The A's were blanked for three innings Monday by Connie Johnson as nine-year veteran Jim Busby's first major league grand-slam homer pushed the Orioles into a 4-0 lead in the fourth and chased Ralph Terry. But the A's then counted three in their fourth, two on Bob Martyn's homer, and squared it in the fifth on Harry Chiti's homer.

In the National League, Milwaukee edged within two games of idle San Francisco, beating the Chicago Cubs 4-3 on Ed Mathews' 11th home run. Carl Erskine tossed a two-hitter as Los Angeles defeated Philadelphia 2-1.

A year ago, Carl Erskine was prepared to quit if his arm trouble didn't respond to treatment. Today you'd have to tear that Dodger uniform off his back.

The Happy Hoosier gained his second complete game victory Monday night, following up a shutout victory over St. Louis eight days ago, with a two-hit, 2-1 decision at Philadelphia for the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

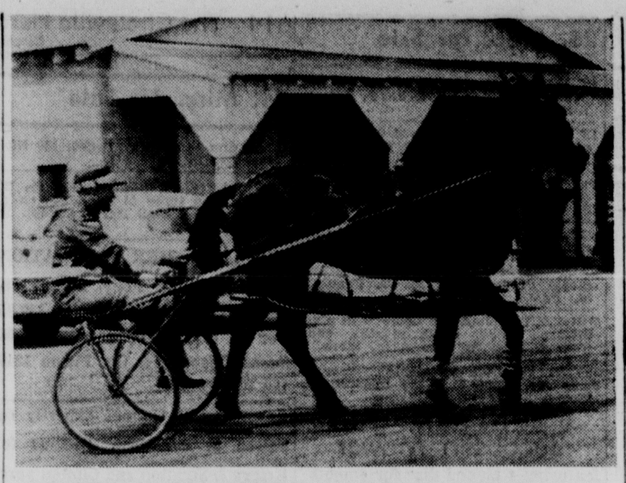

The fourth-place Chicago Cubs were beaten 4-3 at Milwaukee in the only other National League game scheduled.

Only one game was scheduled in the American League, and the Kansas City Athletics won it, beating Baltimore 5-4.

Erskine, once the ace of the Dodger staff, was shooting for his third no-hitter for 5 1-3 innings, and had a one-hit shutout until the eighth while ending Robin Roberts' comeback winning streak at three. The Dodgers scored in the fourth on Don Zimmer's two-run double off the left field screen.

Don McMahon won his third without defeat for the Braves, riding in on Ed Mathews' 11th homer in the eighth after Lew Burdette had blown a 3-0 lead. Burdette gave up 10 hits in his 5 2-3 frames. McMahon allowed just one single the rest of the way.

Frank Torre's second 1958 homer, following a walk to Mathews and Billy Bruton's single, built the 3-0 lead in the fourth against Moe Drabowsky.

Tribe Awaits 2-Tilt Test With Orioles

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians must win both games of a two-game series opening tonight with Baltimore to come out ahead in their 13-game home stand which ends Wednesday.

The Tribe, holding fourth place in the American League one game ahead of the Orioles, has won but five of 11 games played since they returned from an extended road trip May 16.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant will start for the Tribe tonight and will be seeking his fifth victory. He had lost two games. His opponent will be either Jack Harshman, who has a 5-2 record, or Billy Loes, 0-4.

Grant's record includes a six-hit, 6-1 victory in Baltimore. In his last start, he defeated Washington, 3-1, on six hits.

After Wednesday afternoon's game the Indians leave on a 17-game road trip that will take them to Kansas City, Boston, New York, Baltimore and Washington. They will return June 17.

Carburetion Tests Due Next in '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)— Activity was all in the garages at the Indianapolis Speedway today as 33 cars entered in the Memorial Day 500-mile race were being readied for carburetion tests.

The field is the fastest in history, and favorite Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., predicts a record run of one or two miles an hour faster than the mark of 135.601 m.p.h. set last year.

Bryan, USAC national champion, will drive a Belond Special in which Sam Hanks set the record. Hanks, now retired from racing, will drive a pace car for the start of Friday's race.

BEST OF YEAR—When Greg Bell (above), Indiana's Olympic champ, leaped 26 feet 3 inches in a triangular meet with Western Michigan and Bowling Green at Kalamazoo, Mich., it was the top broad jump of the year and only five inches short of world mark held by Jesse Owens. (International)

Richards Elected Representative to Game Law Meeting

Walter G. Richards, president of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen's Assn., has been named farmer representative from Wildlife District No. 5 to attend a state game law hearing in Columbus June 26.

Richards, along with Robert Wolf, secretary of the local Farmers and Sportsmen's group, attended a District No. 5 meeting in Chillicothe earlier this month. Wolf also was named secretary for the district.

The session covered proposed game law changes submitted by all counties in the district.

Changes approved by the district representatives will be carried to the state meeting for approval or disapproval.

Akron Kegler Loses In Bid for Masters

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Defending champion Dick Hoover of Akron was eliminated from the American Bowling Congress Masters' tournament Monday night after he absorbed his second loss in the match play finals.

Hoovtr's final defeat came at the hands of Ray Bala of Windsor, Ont., who outpinned the Buckeye star, 756 to 752, in their four game duel. Hoover was beaten in his first match of the finals Sunday night by another comparative unknown, Al Kaelin of Louisville.

Duster Pitch Uproar Gains New Spotlight

CINCINNATI (AP) — Renewed uproar over "duster" pitching has put the spotlight on a little study being made quietly by National League President Warren Giles.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh's Pirates is the latest to complain after a brawl broke out last Sunday in a Pirate doubleheader with San Francisco's Giants.

Giles talked with Brown by telephone Monday and said later, "I believe the rule can be improved but I didn't want to recommend any change until I have conferred with more men in baseball."

Duster pitching is what players call deliberate throwing close to a batter to shake him up or intimidate him. Some managers call it murder when this kind of pitching turns into a beanball — hitting a batter on the head.

The league president said he has already talked about the duster rule with some general managers, officials, and members of the baseball rules committee, and will continue "until I feel there is support for a change."

Under the present rule, an umpire who figures a pitcher is throwing deliberately at a batter can warn the hurler, and if it is repeated, throw him out of the game.

Giles plans to confer with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Will Harridge after he makes up his mind on the rule. The baseball rules committee does not meet until called.

Sugar Ray Shuns Any More Bouts in 1958

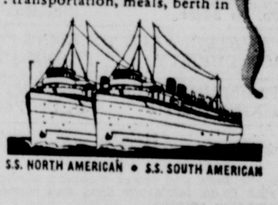

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson says he isn't going to fight again this year.

"I can't afford to," says the middleweight champion. "The way the tax situation is it would even cost me money."

Robinson discussed his future plans after he seconded his sparring partner, Otis Woodard, 160½, of New York, to a second straight victory over Eddie Andrews, 159½, of Lowell, Mass., at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Jim Brosnan — Al Dark

SURPRISE TRADE—In a surprise trade, the Cardinals peddled veteran infielder Al Dark to the Chicago Cubs for the right-handed pitcher, Jim Brosnan. Dark has been in the majors for 13 years. Brosnan is 28. (International)

BEST OF YEAR—When Greg Bell (above), Indiana's Olympic champ, leaped 26 feet 3 inches in a triangular meet with Western Michigan and Bowling Green at Kalamazoo, Mich., it was the top broad jump of the year and only five inches short of world mark held by Jesse Owens. (International)

Duster Pitch Uproar Gains New Spotlight

CINCINNATI (AP) — Renewed uproar over "duster" pitching has put the spotlight on a little study being made quietly by National League President Warren Giles.

General Manager Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh's Pirates is the latest to complain after a brawl broke out last Sunday in a Pirate doubleheader with San Francisco's Giants.

Giles talked with Brown by telephone Monday and said later, "I believe the rule can be improved but I didn't want to recommend any change until I have conferred with more men in baseball."

Duster pitching is what players call deliberate throwing close to a batter to shake him up or intimidate him. Some managers call it murder when this kind of pitching turns into a beanball — hitting a batter on the head.

The league president said he has already talked about the duster rule with some general managers, officials, and members of the baseball rules committee, and will continue "until I feel there is support for a change."

Under the present rule, an umpire who figures a pitcher is throwing deliberately at a batter can warn the hurler, and if it is repeated, throw him out of the game.

Giles plans to confer with Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and American League President Will Harridge after he makes up his mind on the rule. The baseball rules committee does not meet until called.

Sugar Ray Shuns Any More Bouts in 1958

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson says he isn't going to fight again this year.

"I can't afford to," says the middleweight champion. "The way the tax situation is it would even cost me money."

Robinson discussed his future plans after he seconded his sparring partner, Otis Woodard, 160½, of New York, to a second straight victory over Eddie Andrews, 159½, of Lowell, Mass., at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Richards Elected Representative to Game Law Meeting

Walter G. Richards, president of the Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen's Assn., has been named farmer representative from Wildlife District No. 5 to attend a state game law hearing in Columbus June 26.

Richards, along with Robert Wolf, secretary of the local Farmers and Sportsmen's group, attended a District No. 5 meeting in Chillicothe earlier this month. Wolf also was named secretary for the district.

The session covered proposed game law changes submitted by all counties in the district.

Changes approved by the district representatives will be carried to the state meeting for approval or disapproval.

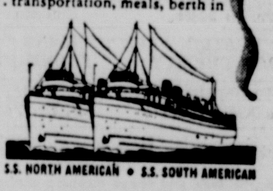

Akron Kegler Loses In Bid for Masters

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Defending champion Dick Hoover of Akron was eliminated from the American Bowling Congress Masters' tournament Monday night after he absorbed his second loss in the match play finals.

Hoovtr's final defeat came at the hands of Ray Bala of Windsor, Ont., who outpinned the Buckeye star, 756 to 752, in their four game duel. Hoover was beaten in his first match of the finals Sunday night by another comparative unknown, Al Kaelin of Louisville.

Browns Set Up 18-Game Card

6 Exhibition Tilts Booked for Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns will play six pre-season exhibition games this year in addition to six league games at home and six away.

The schedule calls for the Browns to make two trips to California and to play three games against the defending National Football League champion Detroit Lions.

All of Cleveland's league games will be played in the afternoon. For the past several seasons the game at Pittsburgh has been under the lights, but the Steelers have switched fields this season.

Coach Paul Brown will hold a class for his quarterbacks at Hiram July 8, 9 and 10. The entire squad will begin training there July 23.

The Browns, who won the eastern division title last year but lost to the Lions in the championship game, will open their league schedule in Los Angeles against the Rams on Sept. 28 and end it on Dec. 14 against the New York Giants at Yankee Stadium.

The complete schedule:

Aging Archie Wins, Seeks Heavy Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Light heavyweight boxing champion Archie Moore, whose boxing life keeps rolling right on through his 40s, plans a promotion campaign to win another shot at the heavyweight crown.

"Retire? Why should I retire?" he asked Monday night after handing veteran Charley Norkus a thorough beating in 10 rounds. "I gave the better part of my younger days trying to learn this boxing game."

Moore did not break the all-time record for knockouts he shares with the late Young Stribling at 126, but he has probably had few easier work evenings.

Relying mostly on his left hand, Archie did not lose a round as he jabbed and hooked to the head and body. Norkus, 29, from Port Washington, N. Y., came off with a bloody nose and battered face.

Weighing a pudgy 196, all of 21 more than the light heavyweight limit, Moore came in three pounds heavier than his opponent, who always has been a heavyweight.

In the immediate future, the 175-pound class champ plans a fight in about two weeks at Sacramento, Calif., if an opponent can be found. Then he'd like Machen.

Martinez Promises No 'Bicycle Riding'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Clever Vince Martinez says he won't "ride the bicycle" when he meets hard-punching Virgil Akins for the world welterweight boxing championship June 6.

The 29-year-old Martinez said Monday that "I won't be back pedaling." He has used that tactic in the past. Martinez added he expects no trouble from the favored Akins when they trade blows for the title vacated by Carmen Basilio.

Thomas F. Keane has been Dartmouth's varsity golf coach since 1922.

Dr. Phillips Eyes Release From Service

Lt. Robert Neale Phillips, USPHS, senior dental officer on the staff of the Commander Third Coast Guard District in New York City since July 1956, will be released from active duty on June 30th accordiig to an announcement made today by Rear Admiral Henry C. Prekins, USCG, district commander.

Dr. Phillips has returned to Circleville where he will establish a civilian practice with his father, Dr. G. D. Phillips, at 147 Pinckney St.

In his Coast Guard assignment, Dr. Phillips was concerned with the dental health and treatment of some two thousand of the Coast Guardsmen of this vital command. A particularly significant duty is the dental treatment of Coast Guardsmen being processed for isolated duty in various parts of the world who subsequently must be without dental care for periods as long as eighteen months.

Dr. Phillips, a senior assistant dental surgeon in the U. S. Public Health Service is one of the officers of that service detailed to the Coast Guard for duty, inasmuch as the Coast Guard has no dental corps of its own. He previously served on the staff of the United States Public Health Service Hospital in Boston, Mass.

* * *

DR. PHILLIPS was graduated from Ohio State University with the degree Doctor of Dental Surgery. His early education was received from High Street Elimentary School and Circleville High School. He is a member of F and AM Number 23, Pickaway County, and BPO Elks Number 77.

Dr. Phillips will reside with his family at 147½ Pinckney St. and his professional office will be located at the residence.

Admiral Perkins said that Dr. Phillips' successor in the Coast Guard post has not been named.

"Competition now has been greatly reduced. It may be substantially lessened within the meaning of the antitrust law."
